

Agricultural history in Ontario will be made at the farm of Alvin C. Beggs, Sunderland, on June 15. Volunteers from the V.L.A. are helping him make a new trench silo in the round in the photo above. The silo will be filled and sealed on Grassland Day when visitors will travel to the Beggs' farm. The trench silo idea may or may not be adopted by Ontario farmers. It will depend on the results found in the experiment on the Beggs' farm. Farmer Beggs is shown below.

WILL LANDSCAPE CHANGE?

Experiment With Trench As New Type Farm Silo, Grassland Day Feature

If the idea of trench silos catches on, the rural landscape of Ontario may be changed in the future. It is being tried out on the farm of Alvin C. Beggs, Sunderland. On June 15, 15 Veterans' Land Act staffmen will help him fill and seal a trench silo built earlier in the month by volunteers.

This type of silo, nothing more than a large trench in the ground, will hold more than 50 tons of ensilage. Lined with cement and equipped with tile drainage, it will be filled with grass silage, a combination of clover and timothy.

The silo filling will be featured on the V.L.A. Grassland Day and hundreds of interested observers are expected to be on hand. Specialists from the Ontario Agricultural College will carry out humidity and temperature tests.

There has been controversy in the province over the success of grass silos. They have been used to some extent in England. Some farmers say their construction costs are less than those of the tower types. Opponents point out problems of drainage and filling.

The V.L.A.'s interest in the silo is merely for the purpose of demonstration. The project will be studied carefully by agriculturalists. On June 15, Grassland Day, at the Beggs farm, refreshments will be served to spectators by the Women's Auxiliary of Vrommington United church.

Week Rates High In Complaints, Beef On Smoke, Hydro Trimming

The Era and Express received two major complaints from citizens of Newmarket this week. The first came after Saturday night shoppers were enveloped in a cloud of smoke and ash and the second was Monday.

A property owner complained of a group of "tree experts" who, he said, had "slashed through trees on our own property to clear branches away from hydro lines."

The complaints about trees being trimmed on private property without permission came from Lowell Ave. In the camp subdivison.

"Apparently they were tree experts hired by the hydro to trim branches around hydro lines," said one owner. "They just seem to have hacked their way through; they have cut a great gaping hole in the side of the maple on my property and it will take years to grow back into shape again."

The citizens' strongest objection however was in the fact that the hydro lines are to be taken down shortly. "I could understand the need along regular lines for some trimming," he said, "but we requested new lines to be put up nearer the street nearly a year ago and it has been promised. The new poles are up but these old poles are still on our property. There is no need for hacking trees for wires that are to come down."

The smoke complaints summoned up renewed vigor on Saturday night. An east wind carried smoke and ash over the municipal parking lot on Timothy St. E. and nearly a dozen people complained of being "covered with black soot". They were carrying parcels to their cars when the ashes fell and soiled their clothes.

One irate shopper brought in a coat to a Main St. merchant and said, "It was completely ruined; you can't get it off by washing or dry cleaning. Fine way for a town to treat customers."

The Rogers cane, an award to a student in Fifth House, the preparatory department, went to Roger Brownlee.

Lions Act To Put Town 'On Map' With Signs On Highway Entrances

It looks as if Newmarket is going to be "put on the map" after all. Following a motion from Councillor Lorne Paynter last Monday night, the Newmarket Lions club appointed a committee to look into the possibility of erecting large signs on Yonge St. advertising Newmarket.

Newmarket doesn't exist for most of the thousands of travellers who weekly drive up and down Yonge St. Only the smallest of signs point the direction to the "Hub of North York".

"We are missing golden opportunities," said Mr. Paynter. "Now that Newmarket extends as far as Yonge St., we have no longer any excuse not to put up signs." He referred to the campaign conducted by The Era and Express for signs on the approaches of Newmarket. "I am in complete accord with it," he said.

Mr. Paynter suggested that if the committee from the Lions club could come up with a definite suggestion to council, he thought council might give it consideration. It was suggested that other groups might be contacted, including the Optimist club, the Legion and Newmarket Veterans. Various types of sign boards were discussed.

It was generally agreed, however, that a sign was needed and the larger the better.

The Lions paid tribute to one of their members, Fred S. Thompson, who in the past year, as district governor, was given the "100 Percent" award for the manner in which he filled the office. The award consisted of a special pin and was presented to him by a former member, Harry E. Lambert, now of Brantford.

It was the final meeting of the season for the club with the exception of ladies' night, this year at the Briars at Jackson's Point, and the meeting was given over to the installation of officers and presentations. Fred S. Lundy, a charter member, installed the officers with appropriate comment and Mr. Lambert presented perfect attendance pins.

Ralph Boag received a pin for perfect attendance for 15 years. Bill Geer, Bert Morrison, Chester Best, W. M. Cockburn, Fred Thompson and Tom Doyle were presented with pins for ten years' perfect attendance.

TRACTOR LURCHES, BOY ONLY BRUISED UNDER HEAVY WHEEL

Ronnie Lilly, 14, escaped serious injury when he was run over by the large rear wheel of a tractor near Holland Landing Monday afternoon. When his tractor which was being used for plowing hit a large stone, Ronnie was thrown to the ground and the wheel went over his hip and leg.

He was taken to York County hospital for x-rays, attended by Dr. G. E. Case. It was found that he suffered only from bruises.

The Lilly family lives on the farm of R. C. Morning and Ronnie works on the farm after school. He had Monday afternoon off because members of the grade eight class were visiting Newmarket high school.

"We thought he was more seriously hurt," his mother said. "It is a wonder that he didn't have any bones crushed."

OPTIMISTS FEATURE BERMDA AIR TRIP

The Newmarket Optimist club is sponsoring something new in the field of lucky draws in Newmarket. The club has plans to provide a week's holiday by air travel to New York City and Bermuda for the winner. The person with the good fortune will be able to choose any week in a 12-month period or take the equivalent in cash.

It will be a trip for two with all expenses paid, two days in New York and four days in Bermuda. The winner of the trip will be chosen on December 1, 1951. The proceeds from the Optimists' project will be devoted to boys' work in Newmarket.

Take No Chance, M.O.H. Warns Urges All To Take Chest X-Ray

On June 20, 21, 22, 25, 26, 27, all citizens of Newmarket will have the opportunity of having a free chest x-ray taken. This opportunity is being made available under the local sponsorship of the Newmarket Lions club, assisted by various other local organizations and the costs of the x-rays are made possible by the Christmas Seal Fund of the National Sanitarium Association.

The medical officer of health, Dr. R. M. King, hopes that every citizen will take advantage of having this free chest x-ray. He feels that it is not only of personal benefit to the individual to have this free examination, but it is also a service to the community as a whole and a gesture of good citizenship to take advantage of the examination.

Dr. King says that the best way

Era-Express Awarded Legge Editorial Prize

Seeks Address Of Witness To Car Accident

L. G. Mallory of Orillia, still in York County hospital following a highway accident on Yonge St. on Sunday, June 3, finds himself with a problem. In the excitement following the accident and medical treatment, the address of a witness was lost.

He asked the Era and Express to see if he could reach the witness through this publicity.

Mr. and Mrs. Mallory and their two children were driving north on Yonge St. when their convertible collided with a bus. The car was wrecked, the two children were taken to the Sick Children's hospital and Mr. and Mrs. Mallory were hospitalized in the York County hospital.

The driver of a car following the Mallory's car, took them to the hospital. He saw the accident and told the Mallory's he would be pleased to testify. Mr. Mallory asks that he get in touch with him at York County hospital, or through Mrs. Mallory, 545 Jarvis St., Toronto, phone RA 5373.

FRACTURES FINGER

Ernie Miller, livestock catcher of the Town League's Sports-Cycle team, will be sidelined for some time it was learned Tuesday. X-ray pictures indicated he had suffered a fractured finger in Monday's town league Hoffman-Cycleshop tussle. ### WINS SUIT

Alma Rulloch, Leaside, won a spring suit in a draw held recently by the Newmarket branch of the Canadian Legion.

The Legge Memorial Trophy has been awarded The Era and Express for the second year in a row. The trophy is presented annually to the weekly newspaper in Ontario and Quebec judged to have the best editorial page. The award was made at the convention of members of the Ontario and Quebec division of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association in Montreal last weekend.

Last year, The Era and Express also won the David Williams Trophy given to the weekly paper with the best editorial page in the circulation class of 3,000 and over in the national competition.

The Joseph T. Clarke Trophy for the best all round weekly printed in a village of 1,500 or less was awarded to the Elora paper edited by Mrs. Catherine Marston. The E. T. Stephenson Trophy for the paper having the best front page and printed in towns of 4,500 population or less was won by the Aurora Banner.

The Legge Memorial Trophy, before last year, was held by the Port Erie Times-Review. This paper and The Era and Express have been the only two to win it so far. The Stouffville Tribune won the Joseph T. Clarke Trophy last year but was unable to compete for it this year because of population increase.

Mr. J. G. Sinclair, editor of The Banner until March 26, now edits the Aurora News Page in The Era and Express.

The Legge Trophy was the only award for which The Era and Express was able to compete, being barred from competition in the other awards by population restrictions.

The "Better Newspapers Commissions" are a regular feature of Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association activities, both in national field and in the provincial divisions. The issues by which the papers are judged are picked from the year's files and every effort is made to judge the paper by its week to week showing rather than on one or two specific issues.

Floodlight Fund $1,700

Approximately $1,700 has been collected towards the installation of floodlights at the Fair Grounds, reports Chairman Chas. VanZant of ways and means committee.

The committee investigating the best possible set-up and cost had the Northern Electric Co. engineer at their meeting Tuesday and in the next week, will have a firm price on the project.

In the canvass the surface has just been scratched. Collection committee of Charles VanZant and Albert Topham are making contacts daily and have yet to be turned away empty-handed. Many items required for the installation are scarce and getting tougher to get as time slides along.

The poles, six are required for the job, are particularly difficult to obtain due to their length and these will have to be put on order immediately. In fact the necessary money must be raised this month or early in July if there is to be any hope of floodlights for this year.

Aim For Efficiency In Town Re-organization Of Works Department

The town works department in Newmarket is undergoing a complete re-organization since the beginning of the week. The works department now consists of three work crews, for sewer maintenance, roads and water system with a foreman at the head of each. Previously the department had not been organized into work gangs with defined responsibilities.

Yesterday officials said that it will take some time before the system is operating efficiently. Some new equipment is needed before it can operate under the new plan.

Fred Evans was appointed town superintendent over all departments which will maintain municipal utilities and roads. Other foremen under him are Datus Crowder, foreman of the sewer department, John Stickland of the roads department and V. Hodgins of the water department.

The town council adopted the plan for the works department re-organization at a special meeting Friday afternoon. Mayor Joseph Vale said he believed it was the most important action the council had taken in a long time. He said that it would overcome many difficulties and answer complaints from taxpayers about the operation of the works department which, he said, was caused by the need for re-organization.

Council's action followed a report by the town engineer who had drawn up the new proposals with the mayor. Council approved of purchasing new machinery for the maintenance of roads, sewers and other utilities. The new equipment which will include trucks for some of the new departments will cost approximately $16,500 and would be paid for by debenture.

Council also adopted wage adjustments for all works department employees, the town superintendent and the town engineer.

The new sewer foreman and his crew are to devote all their time to cleaning all the sewers in Newmarket and maintaining them for complete efficiency. Members of council agreed that such a department was needed.

By the re-organization, the mayor said, the old problem of too many men being on one job while something else needed attending will be eliminated. Departmentalizing will enable the engineer and superintendent to accomplish more work at one time and at the same time relieve them for the increasing amount of desk work.

The Story Of SHARON

By
ETHEL WILLSON TREWHELLA
This is the first installment of a continuing "Story of Sharon" from its founding to the present. The story was written after almost two years of research and will, we believe, be a major contribution to knowledge of the past. The remaining installments will follow weekly.

"And I doubt not through the ages one increasing purpose runs!"
Silhouetted clearly against the horizon of by-gone years stands evidence of decisions made in human wisdom or in human weakness. To dismiss the significance of those events, immediately history would challenge,
as a fallacy, that the order of this world is accidental; rather,
that the weaving pattern of the past has become fused in a harmony of progressive movement—
and that those words spoken to an ancient people reveal afresh
"that now we know in part; but then we shall understand fully,
even as we are understood."

So it may even be that when that incoming tide of white men
to this land of North America disturbed the silence of the centuries, a tremor, foreshadowing
a tremendous development in human destiny, vibrated down
the years. Then the old world beheld in this new world the majesty of Creation in all its pristine splendor and solitude. To England had belonged the right of priority through discovery by John Cabot in 1497. In the year 1534, Jacques Cartier, in the name of the King of France, had planted on the wooded shores
the tricolor. Then was begun that century-long struggle, during which adventure, wealth,
church and politics, intermittently and interchangeably with intrigue, savagery and martyrdom, fought for supremacy until 1763.
In summing up his "Old Regime"
the historian, Parkman, asserts that a "happier calamity never befell a people than the Conquest of Canada by the British Arms!"

Time and events hurried along.
In the years 1776-80, occurred
the American Revolution and many thousands of American colonists fled to Canada. England was engaged in a life and death grapple on the Continent and to recompense these refugees for their loyalty and losses the English Government granted a generous indemnity. In addition, in 1789, they, with their descendants, were especially honored by the title, UNITED EMPIRE LOYALISTS.

But the flood of American em-migration continued to pour across the border, so in 1791 the English Government passed the Constitutional Act whereby the country was divided into two separate provinces to be known as Upper and Lower Canada.
Major John Graves Simcoe had arrived in 1792 and as Governor
he zealously encouraged immigration to Upper Canada while at the same time he practically hand-picked them. It is recorded in his correspondence "that he had in mind many settlers—
that he was certain there were still many inhabitants of the United States who had their affections centred in the British Government and the British name."

This continuing and second wave of immigration to Canada during the latter eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries became known as "Later Loyalists".
Numbers of them came to that district of which Yonge Street, newly surveyed, was the main artery, and a large proportion of them was composed of Quakers
from New Jersey and Pennsylv-
vania. As a religious organization these people had taken no
part in the war—"they desired to remain neutral but the revolutionists resolved there should be no neutrals." The following is from original records and is "the testimony of the people called Quakers given forth by a Meeting of the Representatives of said people in Pennsylvania and New Jersey held at Philadelphia
the twenty-fourth day of the first month, 1775—

sorrow the unhappy contest between the Legislature of Great Britain and the People of these Colonies and the Animosity consequent thereon, we have by repeated public Advice and private Admonitions, used our Endeavors to dissuade the Members of our religious Society from joining with the public Resolutions, promoted and entered into by some of the People, which as we apprehended so we now find have increased Contention and produced Discord and Confusion.
"The Divine Principle of Grace and Truth which we profess, leads all who attend to its dictates to demean themselves as peaceable Subjects and to discountenance, and avoid every measure tending to excite disaffection to the King as Supreme Magistrate, or to the legal Authority of his Government to

Pages from the Editor's Notebook

Bill Such was in the office on Monday to report on his trip to England and Paris and to try and straighten out the misunderstanding about his postcard from Paris. It was, he insisted, simply an expression of delight at being in Paris in May and that any other inferences read into his message were absolutely wrong.

In a serious vein, Mr. Such, who is a V.L.A. staff man at the Newmarket office, told us of some of his impressions of England and the Continent and we pass them on as matters of general interest.

He found England making little obvious ado about the prospects of a war with Russia. There was little mention of it in the papers and little said on the street. There was, he thought, a feeling of acceptance of the fact that war with Russia was a distinct possibility and that there was little sense in wasting time by discussing it.

Instead, there was considerable evidence of preparation. The streets were full of uniformed personnel and the air full of planes.

There was less warlike bustle in France but then, as he was quick to point out, he had little opportunity to really see the country and no chance at all to talk to its people.

He said the Festival of Britain was "terrific," that it defied description. The Dome of Discovery, beneath which was displayed Britain's achievements in the last 100 years, was a fascinating history of accomplishment. The pomp and circumstance of military ceremonies were thrilling in their color and tradition.

He found that large stretches of bomb ruins in England had been cleaned up and landscaped, and made colorful with advertising signs. The parts of France he saw were less impressive with war ruins still very much in evidence. The war cemeteries in France were well kept.

He told of standing on London Bridge and again in the centre of Paris and being struck by the feeling of permanency which these old capitals of the western world possess. There was, he said, such a sense of history, of tradition, that one felt their existence would last until the end of time.

He had sought to anticipate the reported food shortages in England by taking along as much canned goods and cured meats as possible. He also included several dozen eggs, packed, he thought, against any possible breakage. By the time he disembarked, however, there was egg yolk dripping from the trunk. When he unpacked the eggs, however, he found the damage comparatively small.

The day he arrived, England went off egg rationing.

He found general satisfaction with the benefits enjoyed under the Labor government. In conversation, his informants would be critical of mistakes and willing to forgive in return for benefits received. He thinks that much of what has been accomplished in England under the Labor government will eventually become accepted practice in North America.

He referred to the deliberate effort that was being made to get away from "institutions". In homes for the aged, for example, there was an effort to provide all the freedom, privacy and informality of the home with a minimum of officialness common to such homes over here.

Mr. Such went everywhere he could, saw everything he could, but what seems to have been one of the high spots of his trip was a military ceremony at which he saw the Royal family. It was in Hyde Park, and he had heard the announcement of the event on the radio. The Royal party passed close to where he was standing and he had a clear view of them all. "It rained most of the ceremony but no one stirred," he reports.

WIN LEGGE TROPHY AGAIN

We are happy and proud that The Era and Express has again won the Legge Memorial Trophy. This prize is given to the weekly paper in Ontario or Quebec which has been judged to have the best editorial page. The Era and Express won this trophy last year for the first time and we confess that winning it a second time was an honor for which we had not dared hope.

We believe too, that this honor must be shared with our readers, from Sutton to King City, from Schomberg to Mount Albert, in Newmarket and Aurora. The editorial page of The Era and Express has been devoted exclusively to the interests of this district. In these columns, we have tried to give substance to district opinion, to help shape district progress, to seek for solutions to the problems which vex us, to oppose actions which we believed to be detrimental.

The stand we have taken while serving those purposes has not always been the popular one, nor have we always been correct in our beliefs. But acceptable or not, whether right or wrong, our opinions have always been accepted with the same tolerance we have tried to accord others.

The preservation of a free press does not rest exclusively with editors; it is a duty of all citizens. The threats to a free press do not originate exclusively from political or financial pressure, or in the restrictions of a police state; the greatest threat to a free press is public indifference.

We are very much aware of the support and the tolerance of our readers. We are deeply appreciative of it because it has permitted us the greatest possible freedom of expression. We believe the award of the Legge Memorial Trophy to The Era and Express is a recognition of this support, an honor which we all, readers and editor alike, can share.

WHO'LL PAY THE COSTS?

Pensions for all has been a political catch-phrase for a long time but we doubt if any of those who so strongly advocate the subsidized life have given much thought to who will pay the cost. The fact is that like so many schemes for federal paternalism, those who support them are unwittingly playing both ends against the middle. The benefits they are proposing will be paid to an increasing number of people from a decreasing source.

Old age pensions offer an example. People nowadays are living longer but the working population which pays the bulk of the taxes from which their pensions are paid is not increasing at the same rate. Twenty-five years ago, there were 20 younger persons for every individual over 65. Today, there are only 12. In 1975, so it is said, there will only be eight younger persons for every individual over 65. Those eight will be carrying the burden of cost that 12 carry now, and that 20 would have carried 25 years ago.

How far can you go in loading onto the 12 today and the eight in 1975 the cost of pensions, debt, national defence and all the rest of government costs?

ROOM FOR COMPROMISE

It is generally believed among municipal officers, as reported last week, that civil defence is primarily a matter for the federal government. The argument is that civil defence is, in principle, no different from national defence. The government, on the other hand, is equally insistent that its own protection is a matter for the local municipality on, apparently, a save-yourself-who-can basis.

And while the matter is being argued, nothing much is being done to acquaint the public with what to do in case of an air raid alarm.

There is room here for compromise. We believe that the federal government should be responsible for the direction and instruction in civil defence; the municipalities for the administration of civil defence. In York county, for example, there exists now the framework for a civil defence organization. There is a county director and at the next level, co-ordinators in each municipality. Within the municipalities, there are such agencies as the medical profession, amateur radio operators, Red Cross chapters, veterans' groups and others, all of whom are willing to assist.

There is lacking, however, a comprehensive plan, an over-all leadership, and experienced instructors. These, we feel, should come from the federal government. It seems very foolish for the government to ignore these needs. Upon the efficiency of a civil defence program rests the success of national defence efforts.

The state is the servant, not the master, of the people; the state is their guarantee against infringement on their rights, their agent in international and national issues; it is not the function of the state to assume the direction of those activities which rest on individual choice.

The question of cost, which seems to be the major issue, has been overly emphasized. The establishment of a civil defence program need not be expensive with so much of the work done by volunteers. It need not be necessary to establish large staffs all over the country as seems usual in most government undertakings.

Manoeuvres in England showed that the help of military forces was necessary in a civil defence program. Is there any reason why the government cannot utilize the military district set-ups it already has as civil defence areas and proceed from there. Civil defence workers will need something in the way of authority anyway before they can act so why not provide it through the present military establishment?

POOR POSTAL SERVICE

Economy in government is a worthy objective but it is ill-served when essential services suffer as a result. Most publicized economy drive at present is in the post office department, but we question its direction when it has meant poor postal service as it has in Newmarket.

The Newmarket post office is understaffed. The post office department recently advertised for junior male postal clerks. Starting salary was quoted at $1,536 a year or less than $30 a week. Requirements were: "Elementary school education; at least two years of high school education is desirable; a good knowledge of Canadian cities, towns and transportation systems; tact and courtesy; integrity; alertness; ability to concentrate; good memory; good address; satisfactory physical condition and especially good eyesight."

There was, we understand, one applicant for the job. Is it any wonder?

We cannot understand how the post office department hopes to attract good employees with wages as low and requirements as comparatively high as these. And until good employees are encouraged, we fail to see how the efficiency of the Newmarket post office, indeed any post office, is going to be improved.

In the meantime, despite the efforts of the over-worked staff in the Newmarket post office, our mail continues to be late.

NO WAY TO PROTEST

One of the chronic rural beefs is against city travellers who litter the roadsides with candy wrappings, empty bottles and picnic litter. And it is a well justified beef. Some of our roadsides look like adjuncts to a city dump. But at that, it is not entirely the fault of the city folk. This spring, several truck loads of onions have been dumped along the back concessions, and they are an unlovely sight.

It is a shame that surplus onions should have had to be dumped. This is a hungry world. Surely some way could have been found to distribute these surpluses to where they would do the most good. But apparently there is no such scheme forthcoming, if indeed, any effort ever was made to set it up. We all share the disgust that these onion dumps bespeak so eloquently. But leaving piles of onions along the roadside is no way to protest.

EDITORIAL NOTES

There was another accident on Yonge St. between Eagle St. and the townline on Saturday night. How many more accidents must there be before that narrow stretch of highway is widened and the hazard of the corner is corrected?

Premier Frost's emphasis upon the need to review financial relationships between municipal and provincial governments, and his acceptance of the principle that municipal governments cannot be independent without independent finances is encouraging. It is hoped that lasting reforms in municipal taxation will arise out of the survey of the present muddled system of provincial grants.

We hope that everyone who can will attend the picnic at Sharon Temple on Saturday when the members of the Women's Institute branches in North York, and members of the York Pioneer and Historical Society will share the sponsorship of the event. It promises to be a wholly stimulating afternoon.

We hope that the invasion of Pickering twp. by Toronto hoodlums over the weekend is not the forerunner of things to come in Lake Simcoe and Wilcox areas. Last year, such Toronto exports were a nuisance. Strong police action is the only deterrent.

Office Cat Reports Catnips By Ginger

The boss threw me out of the office the other day. I had said to the boss, "Boss, I guess we'll have a spittoon in the office now that we've won that trophy for the best weekly editorial page."

Of course he misunderstood my humor but it started an interesting discussion in our office.

"We will be able to put tulips and iris in it to decorate the front office," said one of the girls who works here.

"No, you can't do that," said one of the compositors, "it will probably turn green. Gotta keep it polished up so's people will know what it is."

Two of the linotypists said that such a thing would be excellent for them for the daily brewing of their tea at coffee time in mid-morning.

One of the other compositors said it would be excellent for making coffee at tea time.

It was suggested by the proof reader that it be hung somewhere as a symbol, something to take pride therein, to cherish, something that would lead us on to greater things, she said. Everyone applauded and cheered and the proof reader blushed.

"After all, we should not use this here thing as a common ordinary spectacle for trash, yo knows," said Slim Bliggins entering the office at this tense moment of decision.

It so happened that most of the suggestions for a practical use of the trophy in the office were needless ones. The express man brought it in and it was unwrapped before enraptured eyes.

All gathered around and gaped. "Why it ain't no respectable at all," said Slim. "You can't pour nothin' into it or nothin' outin' it. It's a statue, not a cup!"

Slim was so impressed that this week we decided to run this original description of the editorial trophy of our natural born primitive artist. The spontaneity of this gifted primitive will arouse the true, honest spirit of our craft: "Here is this here thing of beauty, forged, wrought and hewn no doubt by some old smithy; here is this thing right here which represents the toils of the year—to strive, to seek, to hunt and peck, to seek, to blast, to blow—writin' them there editorials and columns I mean.

"As I sez, here is this here thing of beauty, a symbol for the symbol minded, for mind that we are not well endowed with good minds if we ain't got good symbols to symbolize things with which is a good thing. And that's just what this is, a symbol of somethin' just like I said. It's a symbol of somethin' what was done and done good."

... reviewing the year's accomplishments...

Those meaningful words of our own Slim Bliggins summed things up pretty well.

We had a little trouble with him later though. The boss found him peeling off some of the gold leaf from one of the little beavers to see what kind of metal was underneath.

It was a matter for regret that after the boss caught Slim assaying the metal in the trophy, he kicked him out the door and when I stuck up for the artist, he kicked me out too. Well, that shows you what happens when a guy wins a trophy. Goes to his head. Forgets all about those who really did the job, your favorite cat correspondent and good ol' Dairy Farmer in the next apartment down.

by "Dairy Farmer" The Top Six Inches

One of the later issues of a big daily newspaper quoted our provincial minister of agriculture as saying that Ontario can look forward to the greatest crop in history.

Well, we are willing to admit that it does one good to look around and see things grow, and that the fields and the meadows look green and rich and we had a just about ideal distribution of rain and shine so far—touch wood.

So now, all we need is good weather for harvest, no late frost and no early frost, no insect pests, good weather for haying, good weather for harvest, good weather for grain to fill, no storms, no hail, enough moisture for the roots and enough heat for the corn, late open fall for plowing and early rains for good start for the wheat and everything will be just fine.

We also could do with a little bit less counting of chickens before they are hatched.

To say two or three weeks after seeding that things are going to be better than ever before, is really calling the shots pretty bravely. We also doubt very much if it will do much good in our own negotiations and arbitrations. We are not believers of the advanced school of crying, according to which one is supposed to complain on all occasions, just so people won't think one is too happy. But neither do we believe in rejoicing too far ahead of time. It is just plain bad public relations work (a word that has not been too well understood in many influential dairy circles).

After the minister's declarations, many things can happen.

but the general public will still go on thinking that everything is just fine out on the farm.

Of course, it is easy enough to criticize public figures when they make a statement. If they are too frank, you call them uninformed and point out they are out on the limb. If they are too cautious, one says they are sitting on the fence. When they don't say anything, you say they are just waiting to see which way the wind will blow. And when they keep talking, one suggests that they like to see their name in print and hear the sound of their own voices.

At one time or another this can be said of all political figures. In spite of all this, we would like to suggest that statements such as the one we refer to above be weighed and considered. It leaves us farmers with a kind of hopeless taste in our mouth, because it seems to give our opponents an unfair advantage. Nobody but a farmer to whom it is a second nature to wonder what the weather will be next morning, can appreciate how futile it is to talk about good crops in May. Nobody but a farmer knows that heart-sickening feeling of the sound of a steady drizzle day after day when their crops are ready to thresh or the hay coked in the field and ready to haul in.

And no matter what the minister says, there is still lots of time for this and all the other threats to good crops to become facts. We all pray it won't happen but even the wildest optimists among us dare not say positively that we are in the home stretch and everything is just fine.

Our readers write

Letters to the editor are always welcome but the names of the writers must be known to the editor.

The editor: In some of your editorials you ask the question:
Does the farmer wish to sacrifice
his independence for the advantage of organization?

Today, in the commercial world, the farmer has no independence. To get in the best price range, hogs and calves must be sold at 190 to 220 lbs.
milk must be sold in 12 hours,
eggs less than one week, cream
one week. The only thing the farmer can hold for a price is beef and grain.

The trucking for farm produce is at a set price and in many products, the farmer cannot truck his own. There are so few buyers of farm produce now that the price is set without any bargaining. In the past, before we had organized massed production controls, the farmer could and did use his individual purchasing power to hold a fair relation between farm buying and farm selling prices.

Those days, our manufacturers were in small units and there was no price fixing. The farmer could and would only buy according to the price paid for his farm produce. The farmer did hold control and the idea of the independence of the farmer was built around this system.

In our farm organizations we are trying by what is known as farm parity prices to get a fair relation between what the farmer sells and what they must buy.
We have never met any farmers
that will not agree to parity farm prices. There are some farmers that do object to our approach.

It would be interesting to know what was on the editor's mind
when he made the suggestion that we could change things by the ballot, with less than 50 percent of our people voting in our municipal, provincial and dominion elections, and with the majority voting party and only a few voting policy. There are suggestions coming to have what is called a recall vote, that the riding has the right to recall the member and replace him. This system would make the member responsible to the people and not the party. A system of this kind would stop all special interest or pressure groups from working on our governments.

It would become very difficult for any special group to contact each riding committee with anything that was not in the good interests of all the people.

Ross Armistage,
Newmarket, R. R. 3.

WILL HELP CHILDREN

The Optimist club of Keswick
is anxious to be able to help any child in either East or North Gwillimbury needing medical or orthopaedic treatment who is unable to obtain this treatment for financial reasons. If you know of any such child contact the club president, Percy Mahoney,
or welfare vice president,
J. C. Purdy. They will consider it a privilege to attend to the matter promptly.

THE HOPE HOBBY CLUB

The annual bus trip and plenity of the Hope Hobby club will be held this year at Midhurst Park on June 19.
All members going are requested to get in touch with Mrs. Herb Wright or Mrs.
Jack Farr regarding reservations and where to meet the bus not later than Saturday, June 16.

Statistics indicate that 1,800
thundershows bellow over the earth's surface every instant.
The stroke of a whale's tail,
which can smash even a large boat, is the fiercest blow that can be struck by any animal.

KESWICK

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Porter, Mrs.
Fraser and Mrs. Ben Tomlinson spent the weekend in Ottawa.
Sympathy is extended to Mrs.
Jack Winch. Her father, Mr.
Moses Eames of Toronto, and for many years a resident of Keswick, passed away Friday,
June 8. Interment was at Roche's Point.

The Evening Auxiliary of the W.M.S. will meet Tuesday, June 19, at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Sedore, Elmhurst. This will be the closing meeting of the year.
Mrs. Lang will take the devotional and several members of the Afternoon Auxiliary will take the study chapter.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Winch Sr. attended a graduation and ordination service at University of Toronto, Thursday evening, June 7.

The grade VIII pupils of the public school visited Newmarket high school Monday and registered for the coming year.
Miss Mary Morton, Moulton College, was at home for the weekend.

The piano recital by the pupils of Mrs. H. Pollard was a great success. It was an excellent concert and enjoyed by a good crowd. Miss Carol Knights delighted her audience with several solos. Mr. K. Boothby sang well and the pupils did honor to their teacher. Mrs. Cowleson and Mrs. Pollard played two piano and organ duets which were beautiful. A good offering was received and donated to the nursery department piano fund of the Sunday-school.

The members of the mission band directed by Mrs. Art Pollock and Mrs. Walsh presented
"The Bridge of Peace" last week in the Sunday-school room. Mrs.
Don York, Baldwin, sang several pleasing solos. Tea was served. It was an excellent performance; the girls and their leaders deserve much credit.

Keswick Christian church will open Wednesday evening for conference which will remain in session for Thursday, Friday and again on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Grant, Mrs.
Redditt, Mrs. Peel and Mrs. Hogg enjoyed a motor trip and picnic
to Huntsville and other points north on June 7.

Mrs. Harry Leppard and Mrs.
S. Kettell are away on a visit with Judge and Mrs. Brock Currey at Gore Bay, Manitoulin Island.

Mr. Moses Eames, formerly of Keswick, passed away in Toronto Friday, June 8. Interment in the English church grounds at Roche's Point on Monday. Mr.
Eames has been a boat builder
in Keswick for many years, later in the summer only, while making Toronto his permanent home.
Many years he was the light-house keeper on Fox Island. He leaves six daughters to mourn his passing, Marjorie Eames, Audrey Brasier, Mona Donnell, Elsie Graham, Doris Winch and Gwen MacDonnell.

Quite a few friends from Kes-wick attended the service at Roche's Point.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mahoney, Toronto, recently returned from their New York honeymoon and Elton Mahoney, Toronto, were Sunday guests of Miss B. Terry.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Torrrens, Sutton West, spent Wednesday evening, June 6, as guests of Mr.
and Mrs. Cecil Grant.

The re-surfacing of the road
from Keswick corner to the lake was finished on Monday.

Mrs. Hobson, Jr., and son of Willowdale are guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. Hobson.

The Optimist club held a civic night this week. Its guests were the North Gwillimbury reeve and council, twp. clerk, road superintendent, assessor and as guest speaker, the warden of York county.

The junior citizenship award
will be made at the club's next dinner meeting. This award and all school year contest has aroused a good deal of interest even in the international organization.

KETTLEBY W.A. PLAN ICE CRÉAM SOCIAL

The Women's Association of the Kettleby United church met in the hall June 5 with the president, Mrs. L. V. Heacock presiding, assisted in the worship
period by Mrs. Carl Black, Mrs.
Harry Burns and Mrs. Jerry Black. Mrs. Burns reported a very interesting and entertaining evening was enjoyed by all those members who attended the meeting at King last week.

It was decided to hold an Ice Cream Social again this year, on Aug. 16. Further details later.
Miss Mary Wassink sang the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. M. Cook introduced the speaker of the evening, Mr. Snyder, who is the associate director of Zoology at the Royal Ontario Museum, Toronto. Mr. Snyder gave a very interesting talk on the birds of the world. The several specimens he brought along added much to our pleasure. The beautiful coloring of some of the birds was amazing.

Mr. Snyder said of the 900 or more species known in the world, Ontario has 351. It is the habit of the parent birds to return each spring to the same location, the younger birds come to the same latitude but not often to the location of their nativity, Mr. Snyder said.

Mrs. Heacock thanked Mr. Snyder
for his instructive talk and closed the meeting with the use of our theme hymn and prayer.

commencing in September. This is a further step toward her Bachelor of Music Degree, a goal set by Anne some time ago. In auditioning the young singer, Dr.
Vinci commented on her fine
voice, also realizing her ability in intensive application of her studies. She has studied voice for two years and in that time has won two musical scholarships
as well as certificates and medals in various music festivals. She is a member of the Lawrence Dafoe choir and the United church choir of Aurora. Embarking on a degree course, it was found last year she must have grade six piano and grade
three theory. These examinations are being tried this month.
In February the conservatory examiner, the late Albert Whitehead, awarded Anne 82 marks,
the highest standing in a class of 30 vocalists. It will be recalled scholastic achievement
gave her the John Stuart prize
and the King twp. scholarship
upon completion of matricula-tion examinations, as a pupil of Aurora high school.

ed second in the amateur jumping class on Clayburn owned by en twice with Don Christian on Town Casino placing third. It was the first time Katherine had ridden the Ruby horse. In the consolation jumping class, Don

Christian placed third on Town Casino. Shirley Ryman took fourth in the equitation class on Surrender, while young John Woolley placed second on Teddy in the saddle pony class. "Betty"
of the Oak Ridges stables took a third class ribbon in the brood hunter mare class. Her foal placed first in the hunter foal

thoroughbred owned by Gordon L. Rat, Tavistock, has a new

Mr. and Mrs. William Ashby are happy to announce the birth of a baby daughter, born on Monday evening at York County hospital, Newmarket. The event holds special interest for the many friends and neighbors of the Ashbys. No one is more pleased that mother and daughter are doing well than grandpa and grandmother Dan Cook, the parents of Mrs. Ashby.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Renwick of Brampton are planning to return to their cottage on Wildwood Ave., Lake Wilcox, early in July.

Flew to Calgary for Funeral
Mrs. Kenneth Arnold flew to Calgary for the funeral of her brother, Willard F. Carley, who passed away suddenly on May 30 in Holy Cross hospital. Rev.
Dr. Gordon Lapp, formerly of Keswick, assisted Rev. Dr. D.
Switzer in the service. Mrs.
Arnold returned home on Wednesday, June 6, after ten days
at Calgary with her people there.
Mr. Carley was yard office manager with the A. B. Cushing Lumber Company in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Stephenson spent a long and restful weekend at Dorset, a scenic resort on the Lake of Bays. The weather was fine and the countryside beautiful in fresh green colorings.

Miss A. E. Bull of Winnipeg is spending a month with her niece, Mrs. Silvio Bolsonello, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bull, and her brother, Mr. Richard Bull. It is three years since Miss Bull has seen her parents and she is glad to be near her father who does not have the best of health. Her sister, Mrs. Leon Nichols also lives in Winnipeg.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Barkey and their children, Roy, Donald and Gary of Toronto spent Sunday at their cottage on Wildwood Ave., Lake Wilcox, and with them were Mr. and Mrs. A.
H. Ralph.

Fire Department Guards Cottage Danger of an explosion from an oil space heater in the home of Mrs. Sue Mosely brought Aurora fire department to the scene of the threat on Sunday morning. Lighting the stove to take the chill of dampness from her house, Mrs. Mosely was alarmed when unusual sounds indicated trouble in the heater.
The fire brigade came to the scene when the nature of the danger was learned. Apparently the flow of oil had not been completely turned off when the stove was not in use, causing an inflow to the fire pot. The department remained nearly an hour ready for any emergency.

with you for the service in Christ church.

The ladies of St. Paul's church Jersey are holding a euchre in the basement of the church
every Tuesday evening at 8 p.m.
Everyone welcome. Prizes and

It seems to have been a week
of accidents around the beach;
all injuries to the hand. Mrs.
LaRue caught her thumb in the food churn and was taken to Newmarket hospital. Mrs. J. J.
Williams injured her left hand working in the garden and finally Mr. Joe Williams received a crushed right thumb in the rol-

cerely hope these folks will soon be well again.

friends for their wonderful assistance while Joe and Louise have been so handicapped.

spent a great deal of his life
in hospital although only five years of age. He is a victim of polio and lives on Royal Road, Elmhurst Beach. He is a happy little fellow and it would help to keep him that way if you care to send him a card.

Guests at the Williams residence were Mr. and Mrs. John Jenkins and their daughter Marna. Mrs. Jenkins is the el-

BY GEORGE HASKETT
Newmarket Sports Editor

Observer, viewing the town league picture from his crow's nest, would like to bring forth a suggestion for Town League execs to consider. It seems fairly evident, after two full weeks of action, the circuit is shaping up as a dog-eat-dog four team loop.

The haves are Triple Sevens,
Bell, Specialty and Hoffman.
The have-nots, if you'll pardon
the expression, are Atomies and Smitty's Sport-Cyclenmen. Both the latter pair are searching for a first win and not likely to get it unless they knock each other's brains out.

Why not strengthen the underdogs? No, we don't mean to grab from the haves but it seems
— maybe we're just whistling
Dixie — that several top notch players are sitting it out. Off hand, can think of two or three,
maybe four, that might help the plight of the door mats. They're the Firth brothers, LaVerne and Grant, Ken Russell, Bruce Townsley and Lefty Don Glover — must be others we missed. Don't want to sit through lop-sided games. So why not look into balancing the league. Somebody will get their toes trod on doing this but the league's the thing.

Before this summer is much older, you're going to see some good ball and some tidy battles down the line. That recent Specialty-Bell tussle was as good as you'll witness anywhere.
We're told the two teams are anxious to get another swipe at each other and both have banked dough to say they knock the spots
off the other when the clash comes up. The winner of course — of the dough that is — automatically will be a pro club and the other team won't have to worry about them.

Times change indeed. Your observer, it seems, gazed with undue alarm at the fair grounds
diamond last Thursday. Remember what it used to be like? Best in this neck of the woods. But now! When Richmond Hill and Frank Hollingsworth's bantams trooped out, the young nipper in right field was down in the hay
so low had to stick up his glove
on a stick to let his mates know he hadn't gone home. Struth, so help me. But for the Hub to ask boys to play under these conditions is a disgrace. Surely those boys trying to keep busy and out of mischief in sport deserve a better shuffle. Something should be done about it and at once. Something can be done about it if we can swing the floodlight deal.

The campaign, according to hard working chairman Charlie VanZant, is up to $1,700. Another 1,000 is needed at once if the order is to be placed so that work can be completed this year.
If there is delay, we'll just have to hold the fort for another year.
Have some fine offers of assistance from the Bell Telephone employees and the hydro men to help with the installation and this should slice the installation charges considerably.

From the dug-outs: Newmarket senior ladies have—from what we've seen to date—top infield in the circuit. They didn't have to go through more than the motions to wallop Stayner. Marg McCarman was in charge of traffic at the first station, Phil Mc-Linn and Lois Blight at the keystone sack and Mary Osborne

in the outfield.

Have a note here for your attention. Larry "Spittire" Molyneux and Bert "Photographer"
Budd whip in the info that plans are now complete for a big night
June 27 at Club 14 to aid Dick Burgess, recently seriously injured in a car accident. Tickets can be had — if you twist his arm — from Bert Budd.

Whitchurch S.S. Convention Asks Hope Report Applied

The Township of Whitchurch Sunday school convention was held at Wesley church, Vancor, on May 29. The morning session was very well attended, and after opening exercises Rev. N.
Rowan's subject was: "The answer to Juvenile Delinquency."
He stated this is a very deep subject, but often failure of parents to bring their children to Christ was at the root of it.
Jesus in his life paid a lot of attention to children. We should live in such a way that children
put their trust in us - Conversion in early life was needed, he said.

"REAL MAGIC"

Fantasy and fun are big attractions at the movies.
But have you ever thought what else you get? History is re-enacted; famous personalities live again on the screen; the Old West and the Old World are realistically portrayed. Yes, the movies are a wonderful form of entertainment, education and relaxation. Go to them regularly with your wife or your best girl.
Read The Era and Express amusement pages to be informed on what pictures
are showing and where to see them.

CANADIAN SPORTS PARADE

ALMOST in spite of themselves Canadian fight fans are taking new interest in championships. Since the days of welterweight Jimmy McLarnin, Canadians have had little to cheer about but it's just possible now that the lightweight crown may rest on the brow of Ontario's Arthur King before the leaves turn brown this fall. In a sequence of events resembling a movie script L'Arthur has become the number one contender for the lightweight title recently lost by stable mate the Williams.
Canadian promoter Frank Tunney is understandably anxious to stage a Carter-King bout in Canada but Tunney will have to combat the International Boxing Club and its obvious intention to control all championship bouts.

Exit Williams

Ex-lightweight champion L'Arthur King, who was defeated by Lee Williams of Trenton, N.J., originally lifted the title by knocking out Juan Zurita in Mexico City in April, 1935.
Then for six years
Williams codified
the crown, defending it only when absolutely necessary. In the meantime Canadian Arthur King had also joined the boxing stable of Minsky Palermo
of Philadelphia and was generally considered Palermo's "insurance" against title disaster.

A week or so ago the roof fell in on Williams. Considered a likely puncher for Champion Williams, one Jimmy Carter climbed into the ring at Madison Square Garden at an easy 133 lbs., while the champion was strained to exhaustion meeting
the 135-pound limit. Both fighters were tipping the years at 27. Carter was hungry and like Williams was almost his usual confident self.

In the fifth round Carter flattened
like and the crown began to slip.
In the 14th round, game, old Carter brought up his Sunday punch for the wife and kid. He kept bouncing Williams to the mat until the fight was stopped. The lightweight title had been won by a dark horse.

Last week, Arthur King returned to his home town and fulfilled a previous engagement with the current Canadian lightweight terror, Armand Savioe of Montreal.

Thumbs Down

The Savioe-King bout set an all-time high as far as the gate was concerned (over $24,000) and an all-time low in cheers as far as the fans were concerned.
King fought his usual cagey fight while Savioe tried desperately to tag the polished performer. Savioe lost out and so did 9,000 spectators
as the bout went the full ten rounds in waltz time.

Canadian Champion?

Whatever the present abilities of Mr. Arthur King as a fighter, however,
the fact remains that if he manages to meet Jimmy Carter (here or elsewhere) Canada may again boast a boxing champion. Eligible for the American draft as a resident alien, King may yet do his fighting in a uniform but it's to be hoped that he gets a chance at the lightweight crown.
Perhaps, as champion, he will turn on the earnest ferocity we feel is naturally his. As lightweight champion of the world, Arthur King
may bring us another glimpse of the glamorous days of Jimmy McLarnin.

Harts Take Second Win

Carving out an early 9-3 edge Harts "Diamonds" hung on to defeat Collis Leather "Tanners" 19-13 in an Aurora Town League contest Tuesday. It was the second victory for the Diamonds. The tanners have yet to make their mark in the win column.

In the sluggers battle, Alf Childs with a triple, double and a double helping of singles, Hack Cain with two triples, Ed Aylett and Bill "Sam" McGhee drilled out a duo of safeties to provide the Harts punch. Harry Sutton with a five for five powered Collis. Bob Harman, John O'Mahoney, Grant Winters and Ray White were the other active sluggers on the Tannery roster.

Hack Cain, after shifting to center-field, snatched the fielding laurels with an "out of this world" catch.

Ed Aylett toiled six, Doug Richardson one for the winning

HASHMAN AWARD

For A Pitching Effort

With a well stocked note book of slugging statistics, your Hashman had to do some slugging on his own to dig up this week's winner of the Roxy theatre pass. Turned away from our own town league pals to reach into the Lake Simcoe softball league to get him. It's Cliff Ward.

Cliff, as every loyal Simcoe league disciple will tell you, has been going strong since the league sprang into being back in 1933. Over the past week, the Sharonite came up with a pair of well pitched games that gave Harts its first two wins of the season. As a starter, suspended the operations of Keswick's heavy power house hitters 18-6 and then after Hope had nailed an 8-7 lead in the first of seventh, staved off a budding Vandorf rally with a neat pitching display.

Added to this was the fact Cliff got his share of the Hope bingles and also dug in for a two out of three performance in the previous outing of the Town League "Atomies", which as anybody will tell you, was a busy and fruitful week.

ground display. "Red" Castles stood up under the early Harts barrage for five. Geo. "Hoppy" Hodgins stalling off the Diamonds in the last two chapters.

'Berg Spilled By Kettleby

Kettleby surprised the blossoming Peel-York season by downing Schomberg Monday 9-2. It was the first loss the Stephenson-Cabell-Hastings flock have had this term and an initial win for Kettleby.

Schomberg was without the services of both regular pitchers, Ken Ellison and Doug Marchant. Doug Brown moved over from infield to go five and Art Walker took charge in the sixth.

Kettleby bomb-shelled for four runs in the first and never hesitated as Jim Flanagan had the Bergers lofting up and out. Flanagan eased his pitching burden with towering homer and received similar aid from outfielder Bill Graham.

In the other league contests, King and Pottageville chalked it up as a sunshiny week. King laced Woodbridge 14-6 on their southern excursion and gave "it" to Kettleby 23-6 on their own polished up diamond. Stan Foster, Jim Patton, Gord Orr and Johnnie Pringle pumped for three hits apiece to tame Woodbridge. Jack Blake, Woodbridge infilder, got to Phil Hobson and Gord Orr for two safeties.

Bill Kerr made his return to King line-up felt with a five for six show in the triumph over Kettleby. Stan Foster smashed his usual four-sacker, Jim MacDonald and Ted Rose collected three hits each. King busted out with 12 runs in fifth to wrap up the game. Bob McCrone lined out three hits to spark Kettleby.

Pottageville clicked behind stout pitching from Howard Archibald over seven frames and Art Moody went two to gain 18-9 win over Kettleby. Erupting for two four innings frames, the sixth and seventh, Pottageville overhauled an early Woodbridge 7-3 advantage and went on to win

Optimists Lose Lead Fall Before Rich. Hill

After a six-run first innings against Grant Nighswander's unsuspecting Richmond Hill bantams, Newmarket Optimists faded and the Hillers came on strong to snatch a 12-8 victory in an exhibition scrap at the Fair Grounds Thursday. The game was one in a series of early season tune-ups for the local baseballers who later are expected to cut quite a caper in the O.B.A. playdowns.

The Optimists divided five hits off two Hill flingers, Grant Morton and Earl Lothian hitting two each. Murray Young collected the fifth safety. Two Hillers, Watson Cottrill with four including three doubles, and Paul Atkinson with two four-basers and a double made life miserable for Bill Mair, pint size moundman.

Richmond Hill-3 2 0 4 3 - 12 runs, 11 hits 1 error.

Newmarket-6 1 0 1 0 - 8 runs, 5 hits 3 errors.

Newmarket: W. Mair, J. Mills, G. Morton, L. VanZant, N. Smart, E. Lothian, C. McGuire, M. Young, D. Thoms, P. Widdifield.

Richmond Hill: W. Cottrill, P. Hart, N. Reishorrough, P. Atkinson, D. Hart, A. Robertson, D. Pollett, A. Horwood, J. Hisey, J. Baker, N. Burns, R. Keith.

NORTH YORK TENNIS

The organization meeting of the North York Tennis League will be held at Newmarket Tennis Courts tomorrow, Friday, June 15, reports president Keith Davis. Representatives from Aurora, Mount Albert and Richmond Hill are requested to be present.

14-10. Jack Cober hit for the circuit with two on and Harvey Hill cashed in with a two run scoring double to provide the main fireworks for the winners. Howard Archibald kicked in with a game-winning pitching job.

Zephyr Yet To Lose One

Zephyr Blues boast the one unblemished record in the Simcoe circuit. At home, the Blues trounced Keswick 9-0 as Harold "Judd" Smith subdued the Blues over five frames with nary a bingle. Then the Blues erupted for a four-run sixth and six-run seventh to steal the verdict 10-9. Keswick nailed nine hits off Ron Kester. Ken Hodgins got two doubles, Bob Pollock and Coach Bill Stanyer contributing two hits each. Ken Pickering, Clark Arnold and Gord Rynard got triples each for Blues.

The Blues made a successful rally into the badlands at Mount Albert for an 8-3 win. Ron Kester shut down on the Mounties for a two hitter, a single by Charlie "Muscles" Green and a double by Kelly Case. Case's double accounted for two of Mounties' three tallies. Rutledge worked five, Don Walker two.

Second billing of week goes to Hope. It won two, tie Willow Beach 7 all. At home, Hope swingers took Keswick 18-6 with a big first and sixth frame for seven and eight runs respectively. Future bridegroom Al Wilson had a particularly good night at the plate. Cliff Ward tamed the usually obnoxious Keswickers with eight hits, Bob Pollock, Claude Pollock and Ken Hodgins two per man. Doug Eves short stopping tops and "Bun" Cook pulled down some well tagged hits in the outerpasture.

Roy Eves' triple to start the first of the seventh away then a scout across home plate as the Vandorf receiver lost a third strike earned Hope an 8-7 win over Vandorf. The die-hard Vandorfers were sparked by Jim Preston and Bill Kingdon with three hits each and Harry Lavender two. Roy Eves busted out with a four for four show, Ken Harman and Keith Walton kicked in with two safeties each. Cliff Ward served a nice game.

After manufacturing four in the first and three in the third for a 7-3 edge, Hope saw it erased as Willow Beach aided by Hope miscues tied it 7 all with a four-man production in the sixth. Cec McNeill did a good pitching chore, and threw in two solid socks. Don Cameron breezed through his second base duties and was on the engineering end of a two-ply killing. Doug Eves walloped a homer, Roy Eves a triple and Bun Cook a double to aid Cliff Ward with his pitching duties.

The march of the hurry-scurry glamor boys, Queensville "Realtors", was finally halted as Belhaven shoved over runs in all but one frame to gain an 11-9 verdict. Duff Sedore turned in a well-pitched effort for the winners. Bob Winch put wings to Lon Ganton's Sunday pitch for a four-sacker, Marilyn Winch poked out three, Irwin Davidson, Don Cooper and Herb Tomlinson got two each.

Lyman Hall pitched in with a good catching job and counted three safeties, Bob English and Carl Pickering showed similar bat production. Will Elsy punched out two three-baggers.

The Realtors didn't count it a lost week completely. They fell on the skidding Vandorfers for a 13-6 victory. Jim Cook with three, Bruce Greig and Will Elsy by with two each fattened up on Lloyd Preston and Hal Botham's pitching. Bruce Pegg breezed through five frames, Lon Ganton polished off the final pair. Clem Elias with two, Harold Botham and Bob Hammond with solid socks were the pick of the un-winning Dorfers.

Hoffman Climbs Into Race For Town League Lead

Hoffman combined good pitching and a 17-hit assault to smother Ray Smith's Sports-Cyclemen 18-2 in a town league affray Monday at the Hoffman diamond.

The win shot Hoffman into the hot race for league's top roost with the Bell, Specialty and 777. Bill VanZant's chucking kept the Cyclemen off stride. Only one of their two runs was earned. Bob Lee cuffed out a triple and scored on Karl Ball's single but that was as far as they could go. Hoffman poured over the bulk of their runs in two big innings, the second and fourth, with six in each.

Top four in Hoffman batting order with four each were Laurie Thoms, Grant Blight, Fred Dillman and Frank Daniels.

Cyclemen used two pitchers, Ivan Bray and Doug "Salty" Bunn.

777'S PLASTER ATOMICS 19-3

"Everything went" when the Triple Sevens and Atomies took the field Friday for the Town League contest at the Hoffman diamond. The taximen piled it on with a 24-hit display to beat Atomies 19-3. They had seven runs in the fourth and added five in fifth.

Bill Smith, second sacker of the Atomies, had a perfect night at the plate, going four for four and scoring all the Atomies counters.

Harvey Gibney had four base knocks, a homer, triple and two singles. Alvie McKnight, Norm "Speeder" Legge counted three safeties each. In supporting roles with two each were Don Brice, Hack Cain and Jerry Hugo. Brice's take included a four-sacker.

The Atomies missed their usual

CYCLEMEN HOLD HOFFMANS

Behind a four-hit, 13 strike-out pitching by Bill VanZant, Hoffman skidded home in front of Ray Smith's Sports-Cyclemen 4-1 Wednesday. It was the Cycle's third straight loss. Hoffman wrapped up the game in the third after Fred Dillman had stashed away a four-baser in the second. Successive singles by Ivan Ruddock, Ken Thoms and Frank Daniels followed by Fred Dillman's double turned the trick. Cyclemen eased across their run in the fourth and it was a piperoo. It started when Pete Dillman lost a third strike that Bill VanZant whistled by Morley Hunter.

A combination of overthrows at first and third allowed Morley to move to the three quarter station and then score standing up as Jack Staley came through with a thumping double.

The Cycle's four-hit men were Charlie Troy, Jack Staley, who ran under several nice catches in centrefield, Morley Hunter and Ivan Bray. The latter went the route on the Cycle mound limiting Hoffman to eight hits.

The Cyclemen came up with a vastly improved show and are bound to cause trouble before the summer is over.

Gals Smother Stayner 26-2

Newmarket ladies had little trouble smothering Stayner Thursday in a Barrie and District league game 26-2. All Newmarket girls collected at least one good mark with the scorer. Eleven came over in one big innings, the third. That in itself could have been enough to win two maybe three against the hapless Stayner band which is making its initial run in the league.

The imposing hit parade was led by Lois Darrach with a six for six, including a homer and double. Marg McCarnan kicked in four, including a homer. Terry Reid, doing outfield patrol, ran two of the four into doubles. Mona Dean drove out three solid singles. Phil McInnis, Mary Osborne and Edna McGrath were two hitters, Lois Blight and Jackie Moore completed the fireworks with singles.

Jackie Moore earned an easy pitching victory over the hit-starved visitors. Ann Muelder took over in the sixth. Arlene Moore, ex-buddie of the local lassies, pitched for the visitors in the sixth. Her ex-mates showed her little mercy as Phil McInnis and Lois Darrach punched out base-cyclers and before the fire was out, another six runs had dashed home.

DOWN THE CENTRE BY AB HULSE

Lacrosse Everywhere But Here

Bradford boxla boys open the home season officially on Saturday, June 16, at nine chimes with their deadly rivals from Alliston providing the opposition. Henceforth you can jot down every Saturday night as lacrosse night in the district and join the trek of North Yorkers who head for Ceterytown. Alliston has already taken a 10-5 decision over Bradford, but they had the advantage of being at full strength and in a little better condition, and Bradford fans and players are confident of reversing the decision this week.

It will be recalled that Alliston are the defending Intermediate "C" champions. The status of one or two Alliston players who hail from Orillia is somewhat in doubt as they are in a hassle with the new Midland land entry for their services. In the northern group this year along with Bradford and Alliston are Huntsville, Midland, Toronto Maitlands, and Brooklin. In another loop are Streetsville, Woodbridge, Orangeville, and North Peel.

Maple, once the hotbed of district lacrosse has dropped from the picture this season, with most of the players lining up with Woodbridge, while Bradford is angling for one or two of the southern players although Fred Collings is pretty well satisfied to stick to local boys, as he always knows exactly what players will be ready at the required time that way, and saves some money by the process too.

New sweaters have been donated to the Bradford team in blue, white and red by a restaurant proprietor and it's a mighty nice gift. Quite a few familiar faces including Roy Collings and his brothers and a fine sprinkling of youngsters who can really run and only need a bit more experience to bring back the prestige in Canada's national game Bradford had in yesteryear.

There's a distinct revival of lacrosse throughout Ontario this season and it seems too bad that Aurora, Newmarket, Richmond

Hill and Maple are out of the game. In Midland, London and Woodstock, members of the clergy are responsible for the revival. Rev. Len Self, who did such a great job at Norval in Peel County is now located in Midland and has pee-wee, bantam, midget teams arranged to go. Good luck Bradford.

Hockey highlights: Ronnie Atwell, a brilliant young forward of Nobleton Junior "D" club, will receive every opportunity to make a place with the newly formed Kitchener Junior "A" club which takes the ice next month. Bill Wallace, another Nobleton forward, will also receive a trial. The Kitchener club is affiliated with Boston.

Ken Groves of Newmarket Rockets is slated for a trial with St. Louis Flyers, from all we hear, in September. Don't be surprised if Bill Smith, who was with Aurora Bears last winter, isn't invited elsewhere shortly.

Bloude Clayton, who was with Aurora Cubs, will receive a trial with Toronto Marlboros and will likely be with Weston Dukes if he doesn't make the grade. Tubby Harrell, ace of Collingwood Juniors, is also a Leelan prospect, while Al Walsley of Collingwood is another. Quite a mad rush in the ranks of the scouts to grab those Collingwood kids, but they like the treatment at home pretty well.

Jack Bloude, Brampton defenceman, has returned home to Huntsville for lacrosse as usual but will be back with Butch Keelling's boys next winter. Les Canadians have picked off Jim Freeman, Harry McLean, and Ilay Hansen who were with Fort Hope Panthers in the finals against Collingwood. Several of the Bradford juvenile club, Bolton juniors are headed for trials in higher series.

Baseball bingles: Tom Dickson is well high disgusted in his attempts to organize district baseball. Aurora kids are ready to go, Richmond Hill has an unofficial team, and of course Red

'Berg Fans See Best In Softball Under Lights

Schomberg and district softball disciples—500 strong—failed to arrive at any firm conclusion as to the best style of fastball chucking as Levy's and People's Credit put on an exhibition show for them Thursday under the lights. The two teams whistled through ten innings without scoring.

The one conclusion fans did arrive at was you had to be good to stick in the Beaches League, hailing point of the two teams. It was a case of up, down and out and every base hit that did get recorded was that and no fooling. People's had the edge in this respect, collecting six to Levy's four, but neither team could find transportation down that last long mile to the payoff window. Both teams chased runners to third but that's as far as they got. The pitchers dominated the scene.

The program was put on by the Schomberg "Lions" who hope to bring along other outstanding attractions to the park during the summer.

Mayor Protests Procedure He Used Himself In Past; Cook Wants Progress Report

The last meeting of council, on June 4, started late and ended late. Scheduled to commence at 8 p.m., late members were tip-toeing in around 8.20. Superfluous speechifying (not by Councillor Gundy) prolonged the session until after midnight. And what did those four hours of talking achieve? Only two things of practical value. A by-law asked for by the barbers; and a by-law restricting unlicensed hawking and peddling. Preceding these was the verbal scrimmage between the mayor and the deputy-reeve.

Deputy Reeve Murray is chairman of the streets committee. He and his committee (Murray, Davies and Gundy) had ordered gravel and fill at a cost of $779.50. When Mr. Murray asked that the accounts be passed, the mayor reminded him that it was contrary to by-law to exceed spending more than $25 without council approval.

The fact was, the deputy reeve in submitting the accounts was in reality asking for council approval. But the mayor's quibbling was opposed to all past procedure. He hadn't questioned any other account. Why then did he question the accounts of the streets committee? They were all there for him to examine.

Deputy Reeve Retaliates

Mr. Murray pointed out that he and his committee had followed past procedure. The roads needed attention and they had received it. To have waited for a meeting of full council would have meant time lost. They had acted in the best interests of the town.

But the mayor had a hunch with the $25 by-law. He was not satisfied that the conditions of the by-law had been observed. He rapped away on that in a manner suggestive of a squeamish spinster upbraiding the butcher's boy. The mayor seemed all het up and peeved because of the neglect of the $25 by-law. The Deputy Reeve rightly retaliated. He announced his intention of resigning forthwith if he and his committee had acted improperly. Council immediately gave the deputy reeve a unanimous vote of confidence. That was eight up for the deputy reeve and eight down for the mayor. Not a bad score for the deputy reeve!

A Few Reminders
The mayor was peevish over the neglect of the by-law restraining expenses without permission to $25. Let us remind him that he himself broke that by-law last year when he authorized the buying of fire equipment without council approval.

He disregarded the by-law for the best of reasons; and we supported his action when a member of council questioned it. Our published support is on the record. It was a breakdown, and the mayor did the right thing in disregarding the chicken feed, peanut $25 by-law. He was just as right in what he did as the deputy reeve and his committee were right.

But what about the $13,000 accounts that were brought into question last February by Councillor Gundy, incurred by the arena board? Councillor Gundy stated that he wanted enlightenment on the accounts before he would vote their approval. A motion, moved by Councillor Gundy and seconded by Councillor Davies, was carried by council inviting the arena board to come to council and clarify matters.

That resolution of council was disregarded and the arena board never put in an appearance. The mayor made no protest on that occasion, where a sum of $13,000 of the taxpayers' money was concerned. He expressed no words of disapproval at the absence of the arena board in disregarding the wishes of the council over which he presides.

Nor have we ever heard him question the manner in which the planning board spends the taxpayers' money.

Reeve's Magnum Opus
When Reeve Cook arises from his seat you never know whether he is going to travel north or south, east or west in civic matters. We have often felt that he does not know himself just which direction he wants to go. This is revealed by his frequent abstention from voting.

But the reeve achieved a masterpiece at last council session when, as chairman of the parks committee, he read a report which contained two remarkable pronouncements.

The first of these was as follows: "The Cousins pond to be assigned to someone to produce a map and plans as to the development acceptance of deed and everything to progress with the project."

Now there's a remarkable pronouncement: apparently it has been decided that the "Cousins pond" is to become the property of the town. Or is the reeve's report just an attempt to put it across? Goodness only knows what it means. It could mean anything—even nothing.

Puzzle It Out!
The reeve is a wizard with words—the only trouble is that we're not sure what they mean. Someone is to be assigned to produce a map and plans for the Cousins pond. And "acceptance of deed, and everything to progress with the project". Taxpayers will ask: "Who's going to pay for the map and plans? And who wants the Cousins pond?"

Apparently they've decided to take over the "pond". But where is the pond? "And everything to progress with the project." What project? It might almost seem as if the reeve had been taking tuition from the planning board. Such a mixture of language as one hasn't heard since Dickens' "Inextricables of an inebriated terminologist".

The reeve was riding high. His report also contained this choice bit: "That all weeds, grass and hay be cut at the suitable lines. That all projects be completed and a daily progress report turned in to the clerk's office, for future reference, and good business practice."

There's about as much likelihood of a "daily progress report" being turned in to the clerk's office as there is for the mayor to fly to the moon.

Plain Ballyhoo
It's just plain ballyhoo to talk about the cutting down of the weeds. Through the whole of last summer sow thistles and weeds in abundance grew in the McMahon park. We appealed repeatedly for attention to this neglected park, the gift of a donor who did well for his town. Nothing was ever done.

At this moment of writing the condition of the McMahon park is nothing short of a public disgrace. It is becoming a receptacle for rubbish. Yet all that is needed is a man with a scythe and a couple of hours' work to put it in order. "Daily progress report," says the reeve. Such talk is enough to stop all the canaries in town from singing and cause them to bury their little heads to hide their tears.

And there is someone to be "assigned" to produce a map and plans for "the development acceptance of deed" of Cousins' pond.

No wonder we have to put in over four hours at each council meeting! The reeve resumed his seat without any visible appreciation of the ironically humorous situation in which he had been the principal actor.

But it won't be humorous for the taxpayers if council agrees to accept the Cousins' "gift". Pond or no pond, they will have to pay for its upkeep.

The Linton Proposition
It was back again, in a new form. Councillors Gundy and Pringle got a motion through to the effect that Mr. Linton be authorized to sell his property at the end of Tyler and Lepper Sts., subject to the reservations that (1) the town be granted property for the extension of both Tyler and Lepper Sts. across the property westerly and (2) that the town be granted an easement along the east bank of the creek.

Councillor Gundy modestly confessed that on this occasion he did not propose to make a speech. Instead he requested the town clerk to bring out the former planning board report, the one that asserted that now was the "strategic" time to do this and do that.

Will the town really buy the Linton property? Ah! There's one for you. Your guess is as good as mine. It's all a mystery. A mystery.

How Will They Vote?
When it comes to a vote we think there will be strong opposition from the deputy reeve and Councillors Corbett, Fielding and Jones to the acquisition of the Cousins' "gift". That is the line these members of council have so far taken.

Councillors Corbett and Fielding have taken the wise view that council has more parks than it can handle. Deputy Reeve Murray expressed the view that the Cousins' "gift" would be costly to the town. Councillor Jones wanted the puzzle to be explained so that the town would know just what was expected of it.

As for the other new park adjoining the new high school, Councillors Corbett, Fielding and Jones were opposed to its purchase. We are not quite sure on the deputy reeve's position on this matter.

It is a fairly safe bet that the mayor, reeve and Councillors Davies, Gundy and Pringle will vote for its acquisition—if the vote is a recorded one.

Meters
This problem has been relegated to the consideration of the police committee (Mayor Bell, Councillors Fielding and Jones). Bearing in mind that the mayor

THURSDAY, THE FOURTEENTH DAY OF JUNE, NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FIFTY-ONE

EDITORIALS

By J. G. SINCLAIR

POOR FATHER

The first celebration of what has become known as Father's Day took place in Spokane, Washington, on the third Sunday in June, 1910. There is an interesting history associated with the origin of this sentimental orgy, in which ties and shirts for father arouse emotions that are often adroitly concealed by the recipients.

It was a woman who originated Father's Day. Her name was Mrs. Bruce Dodds, an American who persuaded a Ministers' Alliance "to look into a day to honor father". With characteristic American zeal, a report was issued on the matter. Here is a quote from it: "Dad is often the forgotten man, but this is the one day that father sits in regal splendor at the head of his family; this is the one day we all do little things to show our appreciation for father's kind attention in the previous 364 days of the year."

Poor father! Is there one among us incapable of blushing for very shame over such an outburst of irresponsible sentimentality? The words we have quoted are a scoop for any budding satirist! Forgotten man, forsooth. Why, father is never forgotten. Someone is always pushing him around.

Imagine father sitting in regal splendor at the head of his family! Regal splendor. Why, the poor guy is fortunate if, in these days of spiral climbing of food prices, he can get in at the table at all. Anyway, what father worthy of the name would not feel himself an ass if he were invited to take up a position of regal splendor at the head of his family?

Father's Day. We have no illusions on the matter. It was an afterthought of Mother's Day. Somebody said: "Oh yes, there's father, too." Poor father!

DO THEY EVER MEET?

We suppose they do. But we get no account of their meetings and deliberations. There is about $100,000 of public money invested in the Aurora enterprise which they were assigned to supervise. It would be immensely helpful if, from time to time, the public was informed of their activities.

We refer to the arena board. What have they been doing lately? We have seen no report that we could publish for public information. Last year a report was issued. Why no report so far of the winter season? The arena is one of Aurora's chief assets. We suggest that it is time a report covering last season's activities was issued, showing the present assets and liabilities.

We remember the report furnished last year by the recreation director, Tom Dickson. It was an excellent report of that season's hockey and skating activities. We presume that the present absence of such a similar report from the recreation director is a matter for the arena board to decide.

We take this opportunity of paying a tribute to the recreation director and his assistant. They have done much to promote good, healthy sports' activities in Aurora. Of the recreation commission, with which we are familiar because of the press admission to its meetings, we can attest to Mr. Dickson's ready co-operation in all matters that concern community welfare.

We have received no invitations to attend the meetings of the arena board. If we had the public of Aurora would be more enlightened on its doings. At present, like the public, we don't know what it is doing—or failing to do. The press ought to be present at its meetings.

CLOSE NEIGHBORS

It has given us great pleasure to learn from Newmarket businessmen and others that our AURORA NEWS PAGE is supplying a medium of community contact that they appreciate. This is not surprising in view of the immediate proximity of the two towns, whose interests are in so many ways identical.

We know of Aurora residents who regularly do some of their weekly shopping in Newmarket, and of Newmarket residents who come to Aurora for the same reason. In an exceptionally unusual degree the two towns are interlocked. For such reasons AURORA NEWS PAGE is welcomed in Newmarket as the ERA AND EXPRESS is welcomed in Aurora. Through these mediums our two communities obtain neighborly news of each other's doings.

Our full page of Aurora advertisers in last week's issue of the ERA AND EXPRESS provided abundant testimony to the merits of North York's leading weekly newspaper, with its circulation of over 4,000 copies. Advertisers have the guarantee of the Audit Bureau of Circulations and of the fact that, from among over 800 weekly newspapers, the ERA AND EXPRESS is numbered in the list of 62 weekly newspapers holding the distinction of Class A Weeklies.

We greatly appreciated the ready willingness of our Aurora merchants to co-operate in giving the Aurora Horse Show such wide publicity. Had there been the space at our disposal last week, we have been assured that a far greater number of Aurora merchants would have added their names to our list.

In AURORA NEWS PAGE we are just at the beginning. As time goes by we shall expand its usefulness. We have pride in our newspaper and in our ever-increasing number of readers and advertisers.

KNOW YOUR MERCHANTS

Clifford Griffiths

To leave one's native land and begin a new life in another is a test of character and adaptability on the part of every such adventurer. Many there are who fail to survive such tests and return to their former domiciles defeated and disgruntled. It would have been infinitely better had they stayed at home, and never heeded the subtle call of the seven seas and what lay beyond.

Britain is an old country and its thousand years' traditions are bitten deeply into the hearts and habits of its natives. For a Britisher to abandon the ancient ways of life that he inherits is a severe trial to most. And yet Britons have found places through the centuries in other lands where they have often found happiness and success.

Great numbers of them have in recent years emigrated to North America. North America is not Britain. Those who have realized the fundamental differences that divide the way of life here from that of the Old Land, and have learned to appreciate those differences, have usually found friends and success here.

Successful Newcomer

A successful newcomer to North America, who immediately found himself at home here, is the subject of this week's word-portrait. He is a merchant in amusement and relaxation. His name is Clifford Griffiths and he is manager of Aurora's Royal theatre.

He is a young man of no more than 30. Before he came to Canada he had achieved one of life's supreme tests. He had made a happy marriage. He wanted something more than that. His wish was to try out his fortunes in Canada. He made the decision and arrived in Toronto in December, 1948.

He came here with no "pull" awaiting him. His credentials were: youth, ambition and a good family and business background. A little money added to these and you have the complete picture of an old country emigrant trying out his abilities in a new and different land from what he had known.

Way to Success

We wrote an article in which we expressed the opinion that no newcomer to Canada could fully appreciate this country until the lapse of about three years. Unless a newcomer had become thoroughly Canadianized in three years, the feat could never be accomplished. Our view was that after three years in Canada no one would exchange it for any other country in the world, without prejudice to native loyalties.

There are many types of merchant. Mr. Griffiths merchandises fun, education, movie laughter and tragedy, for six nights weekly at the Royal theatre. That is a good measure of service as an Aurora merchant. AURORA NEWS PAGE wishes him and his wife, Pauline, all future happiness.

Aurora Junior C. Of C. Has Charter Dinner Hear Outline Of Aims

A remarkable demonstration of interest in Charter Night of the Aurora Junior Chamber of Commerce was evidenced by the fact that no less than 140 sat down to dinner at the Graystones on Monday night, June 11. Representatives attended from Junior Chambers of Commerce at Barrie, Weston, Elmira, Oakville, Niagara Falls, Hamilton, Orillia and Toronto. The Aurora Junior Chamber of Commerce got off to a brilliant start.

Brad Heintzman, president of the Toronto Junior Chamber of Commerce, was the presiding chairman at Monday night's function and was supported at the head table by Mayor Bell, Rev. H. J. Howey, Harold N. Pringle, president election, Aurora Lions club, W. H. Stollery, president of Aurora Rotary club, B. D. Gilbert, vice president Aurora board of trade.

Objectives of J.C.'s
In a brilliant address, the guest speaker of the evening outlined the objectives of Junior Chambers of Commerce. Mr. Sheppard discussed five points of their credo, namely personal development and improvement; work on behalf of their communities; vigorous development of Canadian sentiment; international fellowship; and development of community fellowship.

In the course of his address, which was given the closest attention, the speaker expressed the view that Canadians generally are not sufficiently informed on their own country.

His topographical descriptions were of so varied a character that Larry Rubins, who expressed the thanks of the meeting for the speaker's address, was moved to say that Mr. Sheppard had given the best lesson on Canadian geography that he had heard for a long time.

President Fisher
Following the presentation of the charter and induction of officers, president Doug Fisher, Aurora Junior Chamber of Commerce, addressed the meeting briefly but effectively.

He indicated that it was the purpose of the members to apply themselves vigorously to self-improvement in every possible way, through study and discussions in class. Each member would be expected to play an active part in their proceedings, and to equip himself with an understanding of community problems and to work for the betterment of the community.

The president outlined immediate procedure concerned with their Chamber.

Other Speakers
Other speakers taking part in the proceedings included Mayor Bell, H. N. Pringle, Harry Smith, B. D. Gilbert, W. H. Stollery and Ken G. Moses. Grace was said by Rev. H. J. Howey.

After the singing of O Canada the meeting was declared adjourned. Later a reception was held.

C.N.R. Telegraphers Honor Former Agent F. Hughes Rec. Comm. Plans For Summer

A very interesting meeting at Barrie brought an unexpected gift to a well-known and respected Aurora citizen, Frank Hughes. It was a banquet for C.N.R. telegraphers, held in the Anglican hall, and about 70 sat down to an excellent repast.

Presentations were made to eight members of the telegraphers present, and among the recipients of gifts was Mr. Frank Cook of Newmarket. Mr. Hughes, with justifiable pride, showed us the English bill-fold which was presented to him, and which contained a sum of money. He said it was a very fine meeting.

The chief speaker of the evening was Mr. J. Dickson of Ottawa, general chairman of the C.N.R. telegraphers, and with him were Mr. J. Gaughan, the local representative, and chief despatcher, Mr. Patterson of Barrie.

The march of time has treated Frank Hughes so kindly that it is almost impossible to believe that he commenced duties with the C.N.R. as far back as the year 1901. In fact the C.N.R. was not then in existence, having originated as the Grand Trunk railway.

Mr. Hughes had continuous service with the railway until his retirement in 1949.

During that long period he witnessed many changes overtake the service. In the early days of transportation two small engines were used in hauling about 17 cars, each with a load of 15 tons. Then came the time when one engine was capable of hauling 40 to 45 cars, with an average load of 35 tons to each car.

Other memories include a sight of the first gold brick produced by Little Long Lac gold mines. This memorable event was witnessed by Mr. Hughes at the time he was agent for the C.N.R. at Geraldton in 1937.

He saw also, while stationed at Red Rock, the erection of the great paper mills owned by the Bromil Paper Company, on the shores of Lake Superior. Four thousand workers were engaged on this enterprise, working night and day for one year.

Agent at Aurora

Frank Hughes was C.N.R. agent for ten years. Those years embrace both joyful and tragic memories. The latter were concerned with the war years, when it was his duty to receive casualty telegrams.

In moving words he recalled experiences when as many as eight such telegrams were received in Aurora in one week. Some of these telegrams announced the names of the wounded. Others, alas, were notifications of the supreme price having been paid for service to king and country.

Mr. Hughes remarked on the moving tasks he often had to perform, in bringing to parents the information, with the utmost need for tact, the bitter news that some loved one had made the supreme sacrifice.

Journey's End

After 48 years of service with the C.N.R. Frank Hughes reached the end of that long and always interesting journey. His retirement provided the business men of Aurora with an opportunity to evince their regard for Frank Hughes. The gift he received on March 22, 1949, is one that he displays with sincere pride, and speaks of with affection for the donors.

This gift, a lovely gold Tissot wristlet watch, was presented to him at the home of Mr. George Baldwin. Mr. Baldwin made the presentation in the presence of about 20 business men, and following this tribute a gift of two dozen roses was presented to Mr. Hughes by Mrs. George Baldwin.

"Nothing that I ever received," said Mr. Hughes, "gave me greater pleasure. I deeply value the Aurora business men's gift and will treasure it throughout my life."

Not Retired
It was "journey's end" with the C.N.R., but not journey's end for Frank Hughes. Having always led an active life, he wisely decided to continue it. So he went to work with Walter Milgate; and when Mr. Milgate sold his business to Mr. Delahaye, Frank Hughes continued on as accountant and treasurer for the new owner. He greatly enjoys his work.

His leisure hobbies vary from vegetable and flower gardening in summer to needlepoint work in winter.

A past master of Rising Sun lodge, Mr. Hughes at present holds office in the chapter in Royal Arch, and is devoting considerable time to the duties of that appointment.

AURORA NEWS PAGE expresses best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hughes.

Recreation Commission
A meeting of the above organization was held in the Firemen's Hall on Thursday night, June 7, and was as usual characterized by much active discussion.

Mrs. Helen Dickson, secretary-treasurer, read minutes and treasurer's report. Don Glass, chairman, read correspondence, which included a letter from the provincial department of education.

The capital of the Union of South Africa is Pretoria, although the Union's Parliament meets in Cape Town.

On the same date Rudyard Kipling's "Kim" will be shown at the Royal. These special attractions will doubtless draw large houses to Aurora's popular theatre. The Kipling film is in technicolor.

THE HOMEMAKERS

Let's Make Quickbreads

Would you like to make your meal just a little more tempting? If so, do the trick with flaky tea biscuits, a hot muffin or a crunchy popover. There are four main types of quickbreads, tea biscuits, muffins, popovers as well as loaves in which baking powder, not yeast, is used to make them rise. Variations of each type are so numerous that they are literally hundreds of different ones that can be made.

Success in making quickbreads depends mainly on four points. The first requisite is to use a reliable recipe and to follow it carefully. The second point is to use good quality ingredients and unless the recipe says to have them hot or cold, use them at room temperature. Thirdly, follow the mixing directions carefully, being sure to use accurate, level measurements and lastly, but not least, bake in a well regulated oven.

A fifth point might be added and that is to serve quickbreads dripping with butter, honey, maple syrup or jam. They make anyone's mouth water just thinking about them. Don't get the impression that serving these quickbreads dripping with honey or other sweets is the only way in which they may be served. Tea biscuits may be used as a crust topping for pies, for puddings or in meat rolls. Fruit muffins, when served with sauce, make delicious puddings. Toasted muffins may be used instead of toast with poached eggs, while popovers and such members of the popover family as Yorkshire pudding and cream puffs have their own particular uses. With so many forms of quickbreads there is no excuse for not serving them often.

The main ingredients in making tea biscuits are flour, liquid, shortening, baking powder and salt. Generally, the standard proportion of liquid to flour is one part of liquid to three parts of flour. Soft wheat flour or pastry flour, as we know it, makes the most tender biscuits. Eggs are not used in standard tea biscuits though they are sometimes added in such variations as scones and short cakes. The method of combining the ingredients for biscuits differs from the general method used for batters. There is, of course, a reason for this. Everyone wants a flaky texture in tea biscuits similar to that characteristic of good pastry. To obtain such a texture fat is chopped or rubbed into the sifted dry ingredients. When the mixture looks like coarse cornmeal a "well" is made in the flour-fat mixture and the liquid is added, then mixed only until the dough thickens and the flour is moist. From this standard dough many variations can be made. The milk or water ordinarily used in making biscuits may be replaced with tomato juice or orange juice. For a wonderful biscuit which is perfect to serve with salads or on top of vegetable casseroles grated Cheddar cheese may be added to the dough.

One way in which muffins may be varied is by the kinds of flour, meal or cereal used in them. Those made of cornmeal or wholewheat flour have a characteristic flavour and are quite heavy in texture. For lighter textured muffins usually an equal amount of white flour is used with cornmeal, rolled oats, bran, whole wheat or other flour. Another way to add variety to muffins is to stir in raisins, dried fruits, grated cheese, chopped ham or bacon, into the dry ingredients just before adding the liquid to the muffins. If fresh or well-drained, cooked, canned or frozen fruit is folded into the muffin batter just before it is put in the pan, in a matter of minutes, you will be taking from the oven a batch of most colorful and appetizing muffins. Blueberry muffins are a favorite of this type, but other berries, finely chopped apples or other fruits are delicious too. Just one little reminder, it is about baking muffins. A hot oven is necessary but do not have it too hot or a crust will form before the muffins have finished rising and the batter will break through the crust, spill over the side and form a "knob".

IT'S A Woman's World

BY CAROLINE ION

Have you ever stood in the middle of a grocery store and looked around, bewildered, wondering just where to start your shopping? There, displayed before you are colorful rows of fruits and vegetables; tin after tin of canned goods and packages of all types and sizes, just waiting to be bought.

What you should buy and the amount you should spend from the family purse on each item is a complex problem. Stretching the food dollar requires much planning these days.

How much money to spend on food is important to every homemaker. Actually, your food costs depend upon many factors. The number in the family, their ages and activities as well as their likes and dislikes influence the mother's purchasing habits.

It is important to buy sizes and amounts which are suitable to the size of the family. If the family is large, Mrs. Housewife knows from experience that she should buy in large quantities. For instance, she finds that it is more economical to buy 25 pounds of potatoes at a time than five pounds, enough for only a meal or two, several times a week. For the small family, small amounts should be bought which may be used up and not wasted.

Another point to consider in the food budget is how much entertaining is done in the home, whether it is simple or elaborate. If food costs are running too high, they may be curtailed by making all entertaining as simple as possible.

The number and types of meals eaten away from home and box lunches for the children are other factors to consider when thinking of the food dollar. Plan box lunches so that they are nutritious and appetizing as well as economical. Away-from-home meals should be cut to a minimum if the budget is beginning to be stretched too far.

When it comes to the actual buying of food, the first important step is the planning of the buying. Check supplies on hand; consider the meal patterns; make a grocery list and stick to it. Finally, do your shopping where you get the best food for the money spent. When checking food supplies, be sure that there is sufficient stock of such necessary items as flour, sugar, salt

The Common Round...
By Isabel Inglis Colville
W.I. ANNUAL

When Mrs. Fletcher and I started out last Tuesday morning to attend the second meeting of the Centre York W.I., we felt that as well as being housewives, casting off our cares for the day, we were members of a great and growing body of women, who in nearly every corner of the free world, are studying the needs of women, raising the standard of living and stretching out hands to each other across continents in an effort to better international relations, and so bring some measure of peace to a chaotic world.

It was pleasant, as we took our seats in Pine Orchard church, to look toward the platform and see our able president, Mrs. Baycroft, and our equally able secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Fred Hare, ready for work and then to look round and pick out the faces made familiar through former District Annuals; to see the new faces whose owners bring new life and interest into our midst, and to realize that the voice of the Women's Institute each year grows stronger.

Rev. R. R. McMath, Newmarket, welcomed us to Pine Orchard Union church, saying that the welcome did not take the form of bands and flag waving, but was warm with the peace and quietness of the lovely countryside. Mrs. Dobson replied fittingly. Then came the reports of standing committees—these given by Mrs. Farren on Citizenship and Education, by Mrs. Colville on Community Activities and Public Relations, by Mrs. Beynon on Agriculture and Canadian Industries, by Mrs. Rock on Home Economics and Health, Historical Research and Current Events by Mrs. Eltheridge and also a report by King branch on York County Home.

Taking the last first, we learn that King felt it would be fine work to brighten the surroundings of the women in York County Home. To this end they made up 25 yds. of plastic draperies for the sitting rooms, cushions and pads for 15 rocking chairs, a chesterfield and chairs, and still they are thinking of more things to do.

Every one of these convener reports shows a multiplicity of projects undertaken by the various branches, but all showing one trend, the forwarding by the W.I. of every worth-while undertaking in the communities in which they operate.

Educating young and old to be good citizens, to realize what citizenship really means; to promote educational facilities by encouraging children in all their undertakings and by co-operating with our school teachers; to realize the benefits of publicity in our community activities; that advertising before as well as reporting after a meeting is essential; that our relations with others—in our families, in our communities, and in the larger spheres of work which open before us, we must remember that the Golden Rule is as potent today as when it was first given.

This is especially true in our treatment of new Canadians—whether they become good new Canadians depends on you and me—what a challenge!

Farm women are beginning to realize what a place they have in the world as members of a basic industry. And we are becoming more proud and knowledgeable of our other Canadian industries. Many branches have taken trips to plants and have come away with a vivid sense of just how fine our industries are and what a want they are filling, not only in Canada but in the world. And speaking of agriculture, in her talk on the Federation of Agriculture, Mrs. Armitage said we should support it for it speaks for the farmer.

The care of the home, its comfort and beautification and health of body and mind are studied as part of the W.I. curricula, and every branch is interested in preserving historic sites and in studying and promoting study among the children of local history. Every community will repay amply, time spent in delving into its past. The Tweedsmuir Book, which so many of the institutes are working on, will be a repository of local history. These books with their local events—always dated, please note, with their photographs and farm histories, are something that will give color and form to every community whose events they record.

Mrs. Armitage and Mrs. Eltheridge spoke on the Guelph Conference, which I wrote of two weeks ago, but I'd like to add one or two items. It was suggested the W.I.'s as a body attend a church service yearly; that we encourage our older citizens to feel they are of use; that we protect old ties and that we cherish and exchange antiques.

Mrs. A. Kennedy, Federated Director, brought greetings from the Provincial Board. Among other things, she said we should keep hospitality within the limit of each member. We should use local talent—everyone has something; and above all be courteous to your guest speakers—do not leave them isolated; do not leave their talk till everyone is tired and ready to go home. Business can wait.

During the day, we had music at various points on the program. A young girl, and I feel so badly that I did not get her name, played a Chopin Polonaise and a waltz by Brahms—these were very enjoyable. We had community singing after luncheon and again I did not get the leader's name, but she was good and we enjoyed the sing-song.

Mrs. Baycroft in her all too short address, told of how thrilled and happy she was after visiting the various branches and she was delighted with the co-operation and support she met at every place. We are a new district and we must be ready to face up to its needs and opportunities.

We had two vocal solos in the afternoon, "The Sunshine of your Smile" and "My Task". These were most acceptably rendered by Mrs. Copson.

Mrs. Elton Armstrong, president of North York W.I., and Mrs. Watson, president of West York, spoke briefly and helpfully of the Institute's place in the world and the work we can do. Miss McBride, departmental representative, presided at the choosing of the co-operative program. The one chosen—"We call it human nature".

Mrs. Armstrong, on behalf of Mrs. Cane, who is ill, thanked the branches for their generous support of the York County Hospital.

Junior work with its challenge to young girls was reported by Mrs. McCutcheon and Miss R. Hunt. The work the girls do in garden clubs, in projects of various kinds, is rather wonderful.

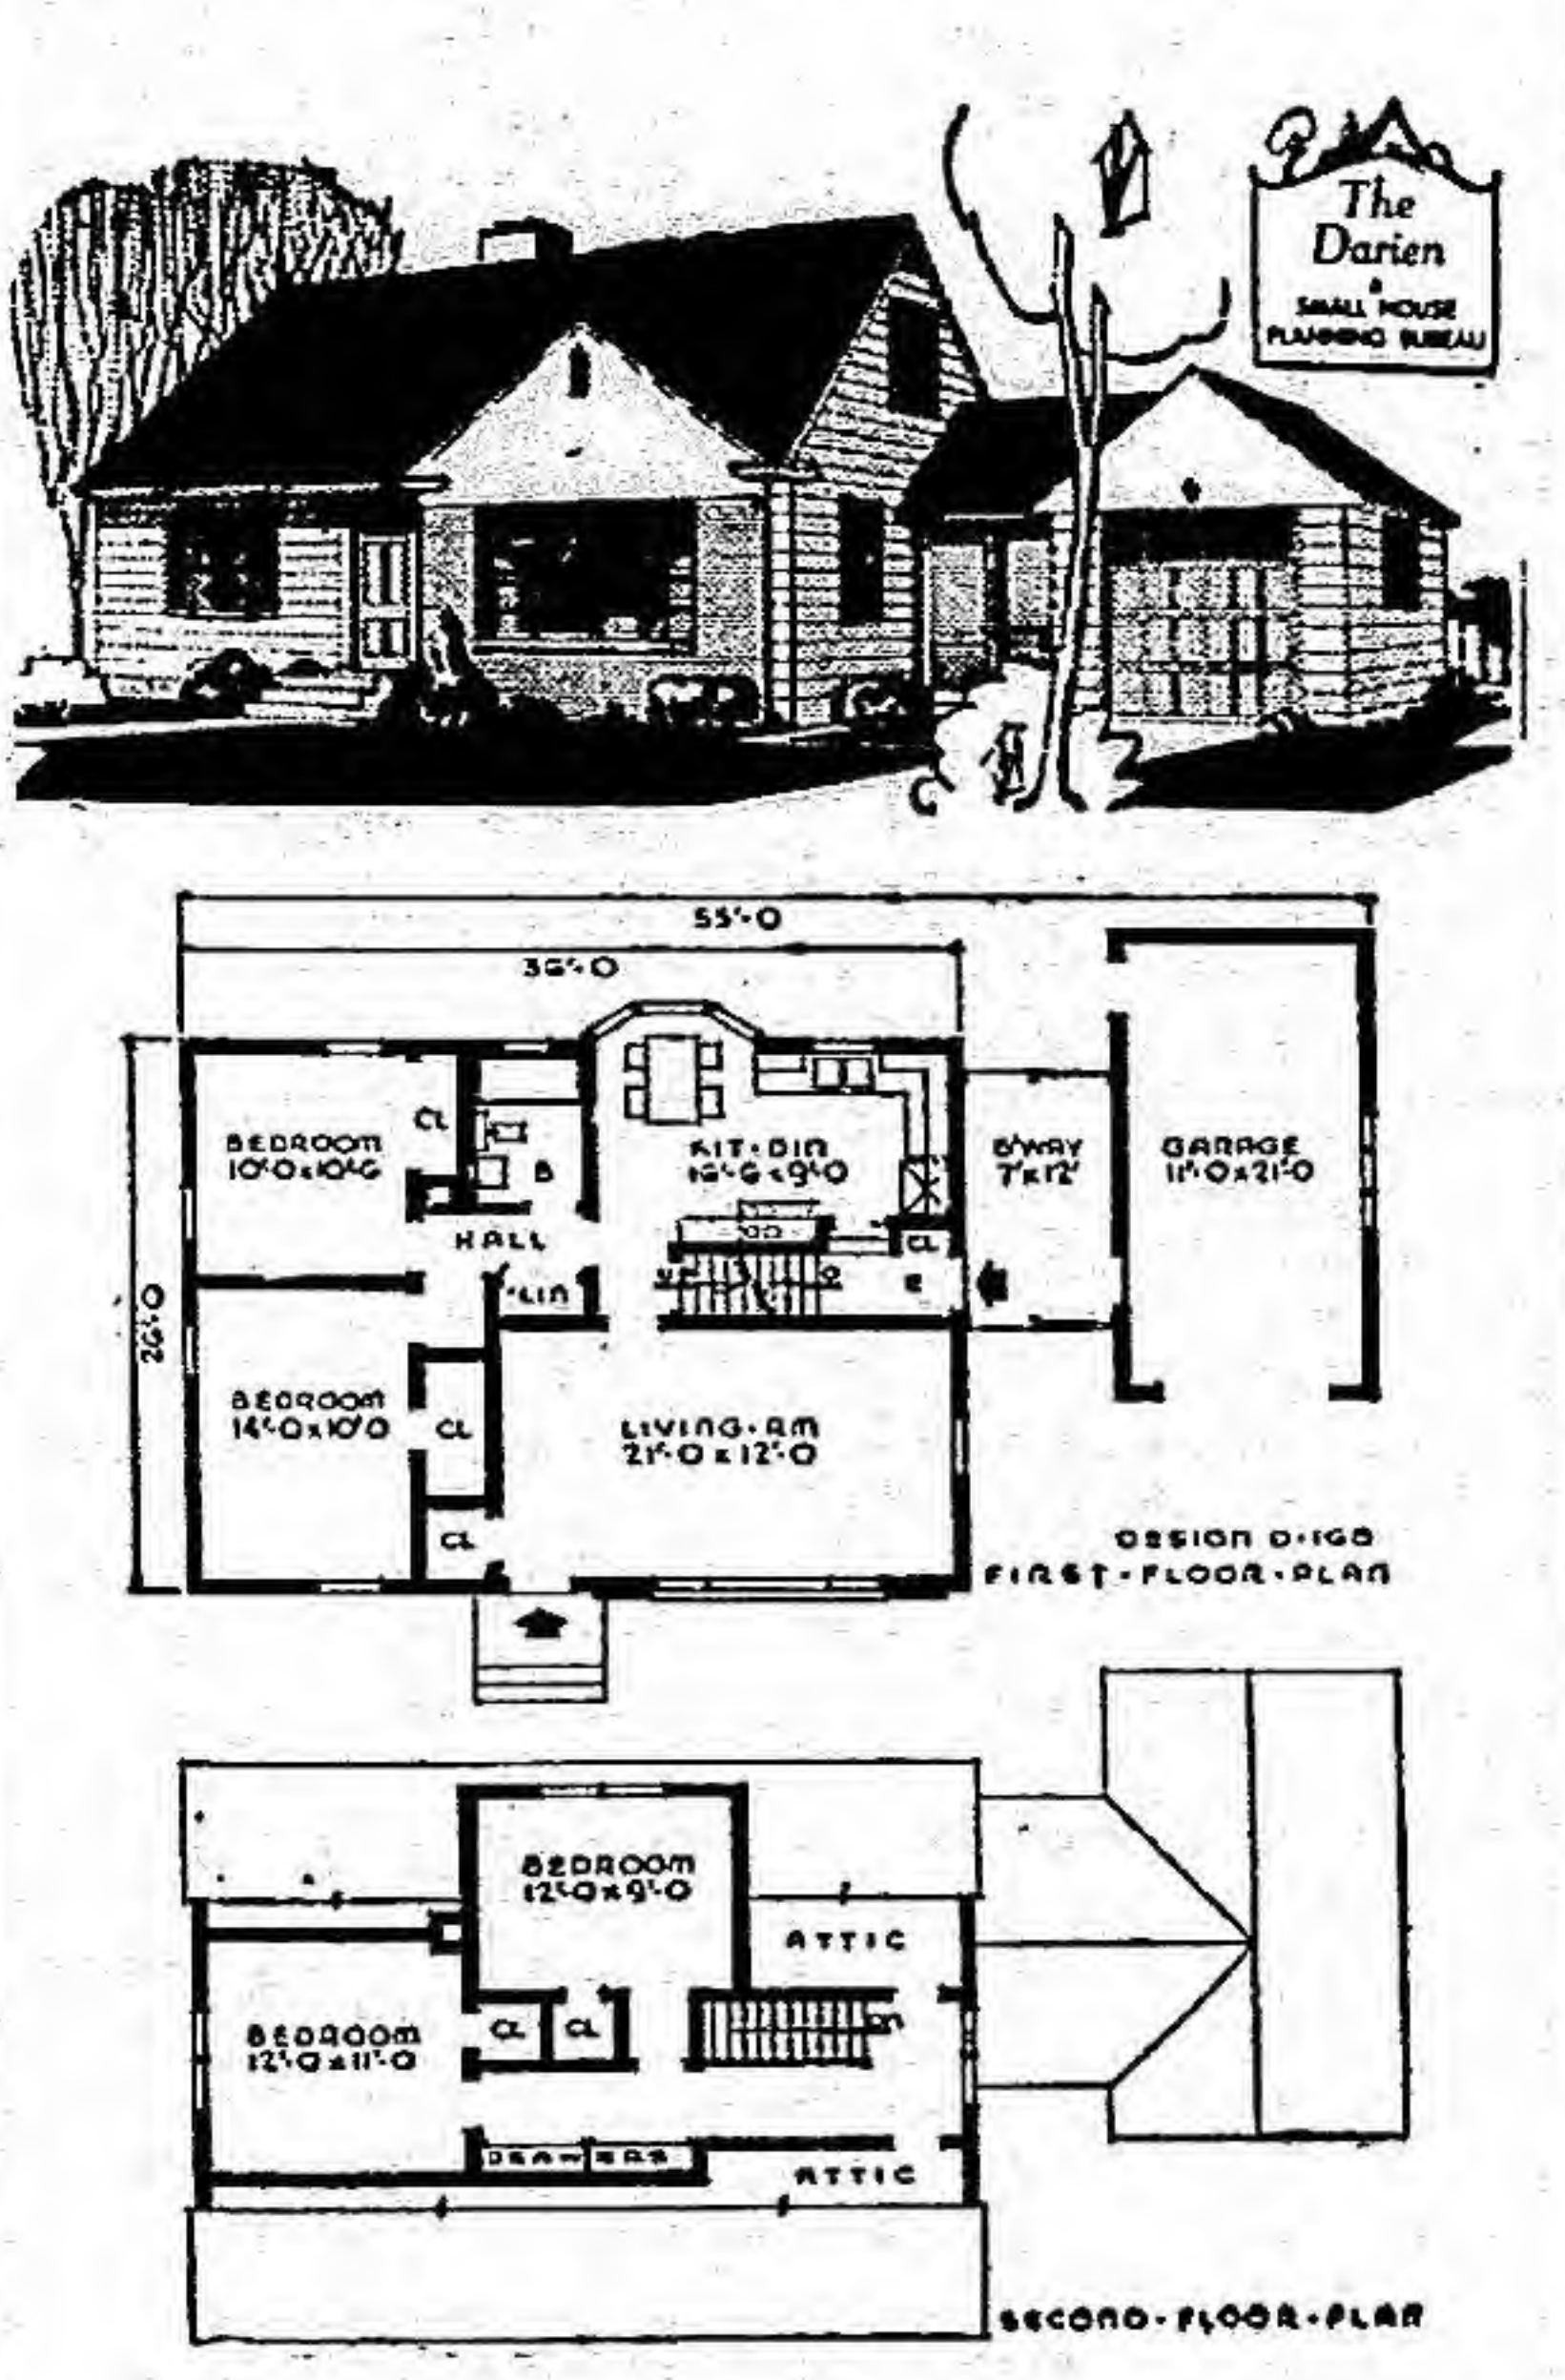

Mrs. Graham gave the report of the quilt competition. First prize to Gormley, second Kettleby, third Snowball. Mrs. Reddick bespoke interest for the Aurora Horse Show.

The Institutes made donations to Manitoba Flood Relief, Institute for the Blind, Hospital for Sick Children, Salvation Army, Queen Mary Cot, Newmarket and Aurora Rest Rooms, York County Hospital, Cancer Clinic, Crippled Civilians, Scholarship Fund, March of Dimes, Bank Books to babies, parcels to sister Institutes in England, little French lads adopted and added to this, the sick, the shut-ins and bereaved are remembered and libraries are supported.

Money is made by special collections, bazaars, television, and radio shows, plays, eueches, dancing and catering, to name a few.

And now a word about the hospitality of the Pine Orchard Institute. We felt the warmth of their welcome and sampled the excellence of their cooking when we partook of the delicious luncheon—cold ham, salads, relishes, rolls, pie and ice cream. Mrs. Shoults proposed a well deserved vote of thanks to our hostesses and adieu for this time.

King City And District

CORR. MRS. L. E. ROLLING, PHONE KING 8

Approximately three-quarters of a mile of watermain extensions have been completed in the water area of King City at a cost of slightly less than $12,000, according to village commissioners. The figure was earlier approved by the Ontario municipal board. J. J. Wall has been awarded the contract to install the remaining water services in the area, his tender having been accepted by the board of commissioners against two other applicants. Mr. Wall held the contract for the original services when the first mains of the waterworks system were installed.

Lady Eaton to Hold Tea

King W.I. will sponsor a tea in aid of York County Old Peoples' Home at "Eaton Hall", the home of Lady Eaton, near King, on Thursday afternoon, June 28, from 3 to 6 p.m. Tickets are limited to 100 guests, obtainable from members of the Institute.

This gesture on the part of Lady Eaton is greatly appreciated by the branch as proceeds will aid in providing additional comforts and more pleasant environment to the old ladies sitting room of the institution. A floor covering is required in this room and in many other rooms. The W.I. present project is to lay a suitable covering over the bare "hard scrubbed" flooring in the "Kings sitting room" of the Home, which will compare more favorably with the plastic chintz window drapes, the freshly painted chairs, the donations of comfortable pieces of living-room furniture, etc., all included in the local Institute effort.

Guelph Conference Reports

for conveners of historical research and current events, community activities and public relations, given by Mrs. Norman Etheridge, Laskay, and Mrs. Ross Armitage, Newmarket, who were Centre York W.I. district delegates to the conference, were heard with interest by 125 attending the second annual meeting of the district, held at Pine Orchard June 5. While the substance of the sessions was similar in the content of the reports, the viewpoints of each delegate gave the themes color and individuality. To condense findings into ten-minute digests required intensive work, a great credit to the delegates.

"History always happens at home," said Mrs. Etheridge. "A nation is never worth anything until it pays respects to the past." This in terms of historical research could cast reflection on the present generation in all levels of society wherein it failed to recognize what has gone into the making of the past to make the present possible. The Tweedsmuir history books compiled by Women's Institutes are records of the past and present. They tell of the people who make up a locality, what they are doing, how they live. By picture and story the data is priceless. Both Mrs. Etheridge and Mrs. Armitage told of what type of books should be used and described methods of compiling the histories.

His son, Gordon, also associated with the same company, is taking a position with the Sisman Shoe Firm at Aurora.

"The response has been very fine and the canvassers are doing excellent work," said Mrs. Specht. "The tentative objective of $100 has more than gone over the top." Last July the branch raised more than $60 in support of the Hospital Aid Fund.

Last week Mrs. T. L. Williams addressed Maple Presbyterian W.M.S. at the home of Mrs. E. H. Brice, speaking on the spring Synodical at Orangeville. She was a delegate of Toronto West W.M.S. and Councillor Fielding were definitely in favor of meters, it is easy to conclude what the committee's recommendation will be. Of course they could undergo a change of opinion.

We suggest that council will act in error if it decides in favor of meters without ascertaining the wishes of the Aurora citizens as a whole. We have heard many citizens express opposition to the installation of meters. Council ought not to override such opposition without getting the views of the citizens. Meters, as Deputy Reeve Murray stated, will be a great inconvenience to country Saturday shoppers and probably lose trade for the merchants.

117 Years Of Service Sunday Eversley Church To Celebrate

On Sunday, June 17, when Eversley Presbyterian church observes anniversary services to commemorate 117 years of the founding of the congregation, the names of two ministers, Rev. John Tawse and Rev. Dr. James Carmichael whose records are unique for length of service in one church, will be recalled. They ministered for more than 70 years before 1910.

When the congregation was first organized by pioneer settlers, Rev. Henry Gordon, who came from Scotland, was the minister from 1834 until 1937. He held the charge of Newmarket and King, residing at Newmarket from 1834 until 1837. Tawse, Edinburgh, Scotland, bringing with him his bride, a young colleague of Mara College. Beginning his ministry in 1837, Mr. Tawse served for many years until failing health made an assistant necessary. A brilliant young man, Rev. Jas. Carmichael, Carleton Place, then known as Beckwith, was called and in 1860 was inducted as minister of Eversley, Strathgairn and West King. He later became Rev. Dr. Carmichael, pastor Emeritus of Queen's University, King. Ministering for 50 years until 1910.

In 1877 Mr. Tawse died and his remains were laid to rest in the cemetery beside Eversley church, where headstones date back to 1837. Descendants of Mr. Tawse still worship at Eversley. Carolyn and Ross Shropshire, young children of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Shropshire, are the fifth generation, direct descendants of the minister on their paternal side.

Deed of Land Preserved

The deed of land on which the church stands has been preserved and shows that the price was "five pounds of good and lawful money". The site was purchased from Joseph Wells, fronting his farm on the third concession road. The first congregation of Eversley held services in a log building which also served as a schoolhouse on "week days". Mr. Tawse was both minister and school teacher. In those days young men and women attended school. When a wedding was to be solemnized the pupils were sent to the back of the room with orders to keep very quiet. The older ones would pair off and imitate the ceremony. The teacher being short-sighted was unaware of the mock performance.

Stone Church Built in 1848

In many ways Eversley church is unique. Built in 1848, not one of the beautifully weathered stone blocks of which it is built has been removed since they were put into place. The only changes made in that time was the raising of the roof and an alteration of the entrance. The narrow straight pews still show the imprint of the hinges of the "pew doors", which were designed to "keep the children from running up and down the aisles during service". For many years the pews were filled with whole families who came in democrats or walked on foot. No member of the family ever thought of missing service. Mothers of young infants brought their babies who endured the long sermons. The high boxed-in pulpit and the precursor's box, still higher, were replaced by a more modern type at a later date. Precursor Hugh Mitchell "struck the tune" with a tuning fork and it was not until 1889 that an organ was installed and a choir organized. Flowers were never used to decorate the church in early days.

Manse In Same Name

Eversley "manse" long since rebuilt, has remained in the Tawse family since 1837. Mr. Jim Tawse and his sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Folliott, live there. Many years ago the home of the minister became settled in King village. The church elders are Dr. M. Ross, Arthur Bovair and his brother, Scott Bovair.

Mr. David Wotherspoon is the student minister of Eversley. The visiting preacher on June 17 is his brother who has been recently graduated and ordained from Knox College. Services will be conducted at 11 a.m. and 7.30 p.m. At the evening service, Maple Presbyterian choir will sing. The Henderson sisters of Gormley, well known radio vocalists, will provide special music for the morning service.
